Atlantic Search Goes On

2 Million Square Miles Of Sea Scoured

From Press Dispatches
SHANNON, Ireland (Monday) — A trans-Atlantic airliner derailed far off its course today to investigate a report of flares in an area where missing U.S. military transport plane might have gone down. But the airliner's pilot radioed he saw nothing but the empty sea.

The missing plane carried 50 passengers who were being returned to the Lincoln Air Force Base after temporary duty in England.

The flares were reported sighted about 635 miles southwest of Shannon by the Manchester Trader, a British cargo ship.

The freighter said the flares appeared on the horizon a considerable distance away. The ship added it was proceeding in that direction at a speed of 13 knots.

A superconstellation of Trans World Airways, bound from Newfoundland to Shannon with 20 passengers, picked up the ship's message and detoured to search the area.

A Royal Air Force air-sea rescue plane also made a sweep of the area but found nothing.

May Be From Searcher

It was thought possible the flares might have been dropped by one of the fleet search planes which have been combing the eastern Atlantic ever since the big transport vanished Wednesday with 59 U. S. servicemen aboard.

But the giant rescue mission went on through the darkness at maximum effort. Weather conditions for the search were favorable. More than 80 planes scoured the seas and sighted nothing pertaining to the missing craft.

By nightfall every possible area had been covered, a U. S. Air Force spokesman said, but he added there was no talk of curtailing the search.

No New Information

(In Lincoln, Air Force Base officials said there was no new information that would warrant any comment from them.)

(The base said it had been informed that the British Royal Air Force rescue and control squad had deployed 10 surface craft and 41 aircraft over the Bay of Biscay area, and that pictures were being taken of all debris on the water in the area.)

Almost two million square miles of the Atlantic already had been fruitlessly searched.

A sea path 255 miles wide and 600 miles long was being combed by the searchers.

The search still centered off the northwest coast of Spain—an area fixed by the last SOS signals heard early Saturday. U. S. Air Force headquarters in Ruislip announced:

"Two objects sighted Saturday floating in the sea off the northwest tip of Spain and described by flight crews as inflatable rafts had not been picked up at dawn Sunday. Visibility in the area was reported poor."

A British ship cruised the sea where one of the "objects" was sighted and reported finding only a decomposed whale. No rafts were sighted. The missing C-119 Liftmaster carried four rafts, each capable of holding 20 men and each equipped with a radio transmitter.

Flares, 'Object' Said Sighted

NEW YORK (Monday) — The Coast Guard said early today its monitoring service heard a U. S. Air Force search plane report sighting flares and "some object" in the Atlantic north of the Azores.

That is the general area where a U. S. military transport plane with 59 persons is presumed lost. No word has been heard from the missing plane since early Thursday morning.

The Coast Guard said the search plane circled the area for four hours attempting to identify the object in the water. Its fuel running low, the pilot alerted all search craft in the area and headed for his base in the Azores.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the pilot hadn't been able to identify the object or account for the flares. The approximate position of sighted flares and object was placed at 270 miles north of the Azores and 500 miles west of the southernmost tip of Ireland.

Smoke KO's Fireman

2 Firemen Overcome By Smoke As Abandoned Cellar Burns

Two Lincoln firemen were overcome by smoke from a fire in the cellar of an abandoned city reservoir pumping building at 64th and Ballard Sunday night.

One of the firemen had been lowered 15 feet by rope into the stairless cellar to see if anyone was inside. No one was found.

The firemen, Clarence Christenson of 3227 Greenwood and Johnny Gabarron of 210 No. 32nd, stumbled to the ground shortly after emerging from the smoking cellar.

The fire department rescuer was immediately rushed to the scene and oxygen was given the men.

Hospitalized
Christenson was taken by ambulance to a local hospital, where he was hospitalized and reported in good condition.

Battalion Chief Ben Kuhner said the fire "apparently was set by some kids."

Police found a heavy mesh screen pulled away from a window and a window glass showed

YUGOSLAV CONSUL'S WIFE NABBED IN SHOPLIFTING

SAN FRANCISCO — The pretty, 26-year-old wife of a Yugoslavian vice consul was free of jail Sunday after police had held her five hours on a shoplifting charge.

Mrs. Sonje Juznic, a native Serb and citizen of Yugoslavia, was arrested by a store detective in the downtown J. C. Penney Co. store. She was released without bail after police had consulted with the State Department in Washington.

Police Inspector Al Corrasa said that Mrs. Juznic had $26.75 worth of store merchandise in her shopping bag, including two sheets two pairs of men's socks, five towels, one woman's sweater and five slide fasteners.

Yugoslavian Consul General Branko Karadzole denied Mrs. Juznic's guilt, called the affair "a bad misunderstanding," and insisted that under an international agreement police had no right to arrest her.

Victor Purse, deputy chief of protocol for the State Department, said in Washington that Mrs. Juznic does not have diplomatic immunity and that the United States has no convention with Yugoslavia.

Karadzole said Mrs. Juznic who has been in the country 18 months with her husband Stanislaw, had really paid for the items but had thrown away the sales slips. He said she didn't know enough English to explain this to police.

Always Tosses Sales Slips
Her husband told the police, "She always throws away sales slips."

Inspector Corrasa said Mrs. Juznic threw the shopping bag at the woman detective, but she did not try to escape.

Another international shoplifting incident ended last week in London when Russian discus-thrower Nina Ponomareva left for Moscow after paying court costs of $8.82. She was found guilty of shoplifting four dollars worth of hats.

No estimate of the damage was immediately available.

THAT'S NICE DRAB NUMBER

SANTA FE, N. M. — A Santa Fe woman called on the local long distance operator for help in locating her GI husband in a distance Army camp.

"What outfit is he in?" asked the operator.

"He's in his fatigues," was the reply. "He's on KP duty."

Scientists Favor End To H-Tests

Some Worked On A-Weapons

PASADENA, Calif. (INS) — Ten scientists at California Institute of Technology — some of whom have taken part in development of America's nuclear arsenal — issued a statement Sunday urging that the U. S. take the lead in a world move to abandon further H-Bomb testing.

The scientists, who pointed out that they issued the statement as individuals and not as members of the Cal-Tech faculty, praised the recent suggestion of Democratic Presidential Candidate Adlai E. Stevenson that the U. S. start an international move to eliminate hydrogen weapons.

The statement was signed by Harrison Brown, former assistant director of chemistry on the Oak Ridge plutonium project; Robert F. Christy, former physicist at Los Alamos; Charles R. McKinney, physicist at Oak Ridge during World War II; Matthew Sands, former Los Alamos physicist; Robert L. Walker, also formerly of Los Alamos, and five other scientists.

The statement said, in part:

Help Break Deadlock

"Stevenson's proposal might be a useful way to get the negotiations out of the deadlock stage by taking a step which would not endanger our security, which would in no way hinder other areas of nuclear research, which could not be delayed indefinitely by negotiations and which would have a very real significance to most nations throughout the world — the control of nuclear weapons is vital to our survival."

The statement, signed also by Carl D. Anderson, Nobel laureate in physics, 1934; Robert V. Langmuir, specialist in high energy accelerators; Thomas Lauritsen, professor of physics; John M. Teem, research fellow in physics; and Jesse W. M. Du Monde, professor of physics, added that such a step would:

1. Decrease our exposure to radioactive fallout and its associated dangers.
2. Perhaps postpone the time when there will be many nations with tested H-bombs.
3. Increase U. S. prestige throughout the world.
4. Provide an important test to Soviet intentions.

Baby Drowns In Water Tank

Daniel Gale Wissink, 18 months, drowned Sunday afternoon when he fell into a water tank at the farm home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wissink of Firth, Neb.

Artificial respiration was applied for about a half-hour. A physician pronounced the child dead at about 5:30 p. m.

Survivors, beside the parents, include one brother, Allan Robert, at home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Garret Kats of Hickman; and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Wissink of Firth; aunts, Mrs. Howard Kissinger and Mrs. George Fleischer, both of Lincoln.

Police Find 'Broke' Cabbie's Home Literally Overflowing With Money

WEST BABYLON, N. Y.

— Five and 10-dollar bills scattered on the floor. Coins and bills stashed in coffee bags, flower pots, kitchen utensils.

That's part of what police found in the rundown home of a taxi driver and his reclusive sister, robbed of a feed bag crammed with an estimated $12,000 cash.

Police said two thugs missed many thousands more in the ramshackle, junk-filled home of 53-year-old John Van Huda and his sister, Jeannette, 64.

How Much?

How much? Well, Babylon Police Chief Percy K. Hempstead said Sunday:

"The cash had been sealed in two boxes and will be counted Monday at a bank."

"One box contains more than 200 pounds in silver and there must be several thousand dollars there. The other box is stuffed with bills. How much there is I can't say, but it's plenty."

He added:

"The rats ate a lot of it."

The boxes, Hempstead said, are as big as liquor cases.

The Van Hudases, who apparently had been fooling people for years about being poverty-stricken, themselves were hoaxed into letting two bandits into their two-story house.

The thugs appeared with a flour barrel, which they claimed was full of groceries collected by neighbors for the "needy" pair.

Money Lying on Floor

Police found bills lying on the floor of the house. The money was worn thin from being scuffed and trampled. The officers kept looking for more cash in every pocket of 20 pairs of trousers and 10 jackets hanging in closets.

A junkyard of rags and empty boxes and other containers filled the house. Newspapers, some dating back to 1906, cluttered every room of the nine-room dwelling. Over everything was a choking layer of dust.

Miss Van Huda, asked about the unconventional home deposit system, replied:

"That's Hitler."

"That's because of that Hitler ... Johnnie got very excited because he thought Hitler was going to take over the whole world. He thought if he kept the money in the house, Hitler wouldn't look for it there."

Asked how her brother knew there was $12,000 in the feed bag, the sister said:

"If Johnnie says its $12,000 it's

$12,000, because he used to count

money into a bag and when the bag was filled he could tell you to the penny how much money was in it."

Police said they also found a number of uncashed checks lying around.

Neighbors and tradespeople with whom Van Huda did business were astounded. They thought he was broke.

Some residents said they had lived in the vicinity of the Van Huda house for 30 years and never knew Jeannette existed.

"That's not true," she said, "I was out 10 years ago. It's my feet. They keep me in most of the time. They always hurt me."

Where Did He Get It?

How the Van Hudases came by the money remained a mystery. They have lived in the house for about 40 years. Their father died in 1935, their mother 10 years later.

When police arrived, they said, Jeannette hurried upstairs and began scrubbing the walls of her bedroom. Queried about this, she diverted the conversation to John.

"Did you notice when they were going to take him to a hospital—John had six stitches taken in his head—he insisted on putting a clean shirt on?" she said.

What Van Huda did, police said, was to do a clean shirt over the dirty one he was wearing.

Atlantic Search Goes On

2 Million Square Miles Of Sea Scoured

From Press Dispatches SHANNON, Ireland (Monday) — A trans-Atlantic airliner detoured far off its course today to investigate a report of flares in an area where missing U.S. military transport plane might have gone down. But the airliner's pilot radioed he saw nothing but the empty sea.

The missing plane carried 50 passengers who were being returned to the Lincoln Air Force Base after temporary duty in England.

The flares were reported sighted about 635 miles southwest of Shannon by the Manchester Trader, a British cargo ship.

The freighter said the flares appeared on the horizon a considerable distance away. The ship added it was proceeding in that direction at a speed of 13 knots.

A superconstellation of Trans World Airways, bound from Newfoundland to Shannon with 20 passengers, picked up the ship's message and detoured to search the area.

A Royal Air Force air-sea rescue plane also made a sweep of the area but found nothing.

May Be From Searcher

It was thought possible the flares might have been dropped by one of the fleet search planes which have been combing the eastern Atlantic ever since the big transport vanished Wednesday with 59 U. S. servicemen aboard.

But the giant rescue mission went on through the darkness at maximum effort. Weather conditions for the search were favorable. More than 80 planes scoured the seas and sighted nothing pertaining to the missing craft.

By nightfall every possible area had been covered, a U. S. Air Force spokesman said, but he added there was no talk of curtailing the search.

No New Information

(In Lincoln, Air Force Base officials said there was no new information that would warrant any comment from them.)

(The Base said it had been informed that the British Royal Air Force rescue and control squad had deployed 10 surface craft and 41 aircraft over the Bay of Biscay area, and that pictures were being taken of all debris on the water in the area.)

Almost two million square miles of the Atlantic already had been fruitlessly searched.

A sea path 265 miles wide and 600 miles long was being combed by the searchers.

The search still centered off the northwest coast of Spain—an area fixed by the last SOS signals heard early Saturday. U. S. Air Force headquarters in Ruislip announced: "Two objects sighted Saturday floating in the sea off the northwest tip of Spain and described by flight crews as inflatable rafts have been picked up at dawn Sunday. Visibility in the area was reported poor."

A British ship cruised the sea where one of the "objects" was sighted and reported finding only a decomposed whale. No rafts were sighted. The missing C118 Liftmaster carried four rafts, each capable of holding 20 men and each equipped with a radio transmitter.

Flares, 'Object' Said Sighted

NEW YORK (Monday) — The Coast Guard said early today its monitoring service heard a U.S. Air Force search plane report sighting flares and "some object" in the Atlantic north of the Azores. That is the general area where a U.S. military transport plane with 59 persons is presumed lost. No word has been heard from the missing plane since early Thursday morning.

The Coast Guard said the search plane circled the area for four hours attempting to identify the object in the water. Its fuel running low, the pilot alerted all search craft in the area and headed for his base in the Azores.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the pilot hadn't been able to identify the object or account for the flares. The approximate position of sighted flares and object was placed at 720 miles north of the Azores and 540 miles west of the southernmost tip of Ireland.

Smoke KO's Fireman

2 Firemen Overcome By Smoke As Abandoned Cellar Burns

Two Lincoln firemen were overcome by smoke from a fire in the cellar of an abandoned city reservoir pumping building at 64th and Ballard Sunday night.

One of the firemen had been lowered 15 feet by rope into the stairless cellar to see if anyone was inside. No one was found.

The firemen, Clarence Christenson of 5227 Greenwood and Johnny Gabarron of 210 No. 32nd, stumbled to the ground shortly after emerging from the smoking cellar.

The fire department resuscitator was immediately rushed to the scene and oxygen was given the men.

Hospitalized

Christenson was taken by ambulance to a local hospital, where he was hospitalized and reported in good condition.

Battalion Chief Ben Kuhner said the fire "apparently was set by some kids."

evidence of being broken by a heavy crockery plate.

Firemen attempted to let the smoke out of the cellar by axing another hole into the cellar beside the two by two foot opening. But cement was discovered underneath the wooden flooring.

Gabarron was in the cellar for about 10 minutes using a hose to douse the fire before he was pulled out by fellow firemen.

No sooner had the ropes been unfastened from Gabarron than he staggered out into the air and dropped onto the ground.

Fireman Christenson had a short time earlier stood on a small platform five feet below the small entrance to battle the fire. He did not become sick until a few minutes after being hauled up when Gabarron took over.

Later a fireman equipped with a gas mask was lowered to douse the remaining fire.

YUGOSLAV CONSUL'S WIFE NABBED IN SHOPLIFTING

... At San Francisco Store

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The pretty, 26-year-old wife of a Yugoslav vice consul was free of jail Sunday after police had held her five hours on a shoplifting charge.

Mrs. Sonje Juznic, a native Serb and citizen of Yugoslavia, was arrested by a store detective in the downtown J. C. Penney Co. store. She was released without bail after police had consulted with the State Department in Washington.

Police Inspector Al Corrasa said that Mrs. Juznic had $26.75 worth of store merchandise in her shopping bag, including two sheets two pairs of men's socks, five towels, one woman's sweater and five slide fasteners.

'Misunderstanding'

Yugoslavian Consul General Branko Karadzole denied Mrs. Juznic's guilt, called the affair "a bad misunderstanding," and insisted that under an international agreement police had no right to arrest her.

Victor Pursie, deputy chief of protocol for the State Department, said in Washington that Mrs. Juznic does not have diplomatic immunity and that the United States has no convention with Yugoslavia.

Karadzole said Mrs. Juznic who has been in the country 18 months with her husband Stanislaw, had really paid for the items but had thrown away the sales slips. He said she didn't know enough English to explain this to police.

Always Tosses Sales Slips

Her husband told the police, "She always throws away sales slips."

Inspector Corrasa said Mrs. Juznic threw the shopping bag at the woman detective, but she did not try to escape.

Another international shoplifting incident ended last week in London when Russian discus-thrower Nina Ponomareva left for Moscow after paying court costs of $8.82. She was found guilty of shoplifting four dollars worth of hats.

No estimate of the damage was immediately available.

THAT'S NICE DRAB NUMBER

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—A Santa Fe woman called on the local long distance operator for help in locating her GI husband in a distance Army camp.

"What outfit is he in?" asked the operator.

"He's in his fatigues," was the reply. "He's on KP duty."

Scientists Favor End To H-Tests

Some Worked On A-Weapons

PASADENA, Calif. (INS) — Ten scientists at California Institute of Technology — some of whom have taken part in development of America's nuclear arsenal — issued a statement Sunday urging that the U. S. take the lead in a world move to abandon further H-Bomb testing.

The scientists, who pointed out that they issued the statement as individuals and not as members of the Cal-Tech faculty, praised the recent suggestion of Democratic Presidential Candidate Adlai E. Stevenson that the U. S. start an international move to eliminate hydrogen weapons.

The statement was signed by Harrison Brown, former assistant director of chemistry at the Oak Ridge plutonium project; Robert F. Christy, former physicist at Los Alamos; Charles R. McKinney, physicist at Oak Ridge during World War II; Matthew Sands, former Los Alamos physicist; Robert L. Walker, also formerly of Los Alamos, and five other scientists.

The statement said, in part:

Help Break Deadlock
"Stevenson's proposal might be a useful way to get the negotiations out of the deadlock stage by taking a step which would not endanger our security, which would in no way hinder other areas of nuclear research, which could not be delayed indefinitely by negotiations and which would have a very real significance to most nations throughout the world. . . . The control of nuclear weapons is vital to our survival."

The statement, signed also by Carl D. Anderson, Nobel laureate in physics, 1934; Robert V. Langmuir, specialist in high energy accelerators; Thomas Lauritsen, professor of physics; John M. Teem, research fellow in physics, and Jesse W. M. Du Monde, professor of physics, added that such a step would:

1. Decrease our exposure to radioactive fallout and its associated dangers.
2. Perhaps postpone the time when there will be many nations with tested H-bombs.
3. Increase U. S. prestige throughout the world.
4. Provide an important test to Soviet intentions.

Baby Drowns In Water Tank

Daniel Gale Wissink, 18 months, drowned Sunday afternoon when he fell into a water tank at the farm home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wissink of Firth, Neb.

Artificial respiration was applied for about a half-hour. A physician pronounced the child dead at about 5:30 p. m.

Survivors, beside the parents, include one brother, Allan Robert, at home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Garret Kats of Hickman; and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Wissink of Firth; aunts, Mrs. Howard Kissinger and Mrs. George Fleischauer, both of Lincoln.

Police Find 'Broke' Cabbie's Home Literally Overflowing With Money

WEST BABYLON, N. Y.

— Five and 10-dollar bills scattered on the floor. Coins and bills stashed in coffee bags, flower pots, kitchen utensils.

That's part of what police found in the rundown home of a taxicab driver and his reclusive sister, robbed of a feed bag crammed with an estimated $12,000 cash.

Police said two thugs missed many thousands more in the ramshackle, junk-filled home of 53-year-old John Van Huda and his sister, Jeannette, 64.

How Much?

How much? Well, Babylon Police Chief Percy K. Hempstead said Sunday:

"The cash had been sealed in two boxes and will be counted Monday at a bank."

"One box contains more than 200 pounds in silver and there must be several thousand dollars there. The other box is stuffed with bills. How much there is I can't say, but it's plenty."

He added: "The rats ate a lot of it."

The boxes, Hempstead said, are as big as liquor cases.

The Van Hudases, who apparently had been fooling people for years about being poverty-stricken, themselves were hoaxed into letting two bandits into their two-story house.

The thugs appeared with a flour barrel, which they claimed was full of groceries collected by neighbors for the "needy" pair.

Money Lying on Floor

Police found bills lying on the floor of the house. The money was worn thin from being scuffed and trampled. The officers kept looking. They found cash in every pocket of 20 pairs of trousers and 10 jackets hanging in closets.

A junkyard of rags and empty boxes and other containers filled the house. Newspapers, some dating back to 1906, cluttered every room of the nine-room dwelling. Over everything was a choking layer of dust.

'That Hitler'

"That's because of that Hitler. . . . Johnnie got very excited because he thought Hitler was going to take over the whole world. He thought if he kept the money in the house, Hitler wouldn't look for it."

Asked how her brother knew there was $12,000 in the feed bag, the sister said:

"If Johnnie says its $12,000 it's

Scattered Light Rain Forecast

Widely scattered showers and thundershowers are on tap for southern and extreme eastern Nebraska Monday and Monday evening, the Weather Bureau said.

The rain is to move northward from Oklahoma and Kansas during the day.

Light showers fell Sunday night at Norfolk and Grand Island.

Warmer temperatures are due in central and western Nebraska Monday, the Bureau said, with highs across the state to hit 72-78.

The warm weather is to replace cool readings which were expected to bring light frost in northeastern Nebraska early Monday morning.

Meanwhile, more showers may develop in Nebraska later in the week, the Bureau said.

Weekend rain drenched parts of drought-stricken Kansas and Missouri. Only Nebraska rainfall reported by the Bureau over the weekend was a healthy 1.05 inches at Omaha and a mere .05 inch at Lincoln. Grand Island reported a trace of moisture.

Light frost hit western Nebraska early Sunday when temperatures dipped to 28 at Scottsbluff, 29 at Sidney, 30 at Imperial and 31 at Chadron.

High Sunday was 77 at Burwell.

Boosts 6-Point Plan

Backs Security Council Action

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, undaunted by a Soviet veto, will press for a Suez Canal settlement in line with six requirements endorsed by the Security Council and a suggestion from Secretary of State Dulles.

He made that promise after the 11-nation Council had unanimously approved the six requirements as agreed on by Britain, France and Egypt. The Soviet veto, prevented Council endorsement of the 18-nation London plan as "suitably designed to bring about a settlement."

The canal question stems from Egypt's nationalization of the 103-mile waterway July 26. The London proposals, product of a 22-nation conference in the British capital in August, calls for international operation of the canal.

The Points

The six points of agreement are freedom of navigation in the canal for all nations; respect for Egypt's sovereignty; insulation of canal operations from "the politics of any country"; toll - fixing by agreement between Egypt and canal users; use of a fair part of the tolls for development; and arbitration of disputes between Egypt and the old expropriated Suez Canal Co.

The six points were worked out in private conversations among Hammarskjold, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fazi in Hammarskjold's office between Tuesday and Friday.

The council voted unanimously in agreeing that "any settlement of the Suez question" should meet those requirements.

Majority Fails

But a 9-2 majority failed to carry an endorsement of the London proposals because Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri T. Shepilov vetoed the idea. Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic also vetoed.

The six points and the London proposals were put to the vote as separate parts of a British-French resolution.

Dulles told the Council afterward he considered it still had the question in hand "and that the secretary general may continue to encourage interchanges between the governments of Egypt, France and the United Kingdom, a procedure which has already yielded positive results."

'Starting Point'

Hammarskjold then said the Council's agreement on the principles "provides a valuable starting point for a further exploration of existing possibilities to find a just and peaceful solution to the Suez problem."

"My own efforts to be of assistance," he said, "will be pursued as indicated by Secretary of State Dulles."

Seven foreign ministers here for a week of Council debate drifted homeward over the weekend. Dulles flew back to Washington. Shepilov and Pineau left for home Sunday night.

A French spokesman said no decision has been reached on when or where the British, French and Egyptian ministers would meet again with Hammarskjold.

But Lloyd, Pineau, Fawzi, Dulles and Shepilov all were expected to be here for the start of the U.N. General Assembly's three-month annual session Nov. 12.

Prof Hits 'Too Little Time For English Teaching'

Too many college freshmen are deficient in English but don't jump to the conclusion that the fault lies with their high school teachers.

So goes the opinion of two University of Nebraska English professors, Dr. James E. Miller, department chairman, and Dr. Dudley Bailey, director of the institution's remedial English program.

Dr. Miller says the high English deficiency rate among college students is more a reflection on our society generally, including communication in our homes, than on high school teachers specifically.

"Most high school English teachers are so overworked with such things as the direction of school plays, the school yearbook and journalism projects, and with student advising and counseling that they don't have enough time left to give concentrated attention to the teaching of English," Dr. Miller said.

Dr. Bailey reported that between 25 and 30 per cent of the University's entering freshmen are so weak in English that they must be placed in "English A," a no-credit course dealing with pre-college level grammar, composition, reading, and spelling.

About 50 per cent, he reported are assigned to "English B," a college credit course. Twenty to 25 per cent qualify for "English Three," a course reserved for better-than-average English students.

Dr. Bailey said the University's pre-registration English tests this year were expanded in an effort to discover the student's ability in effective communication as well as his knowledge of such fundamentals as grammar, sentence structure, and spelling.

Dr. Bailey and Dr. Miller discussed the English situation Sunday on the Nebraska Radio Network's program, "Your University Speaks." Both professors said they believe some progress is being made toward reducing the deficiency rate but Dr. Miller added:

"I think it would be helpful if we had more good, solid pre-college analytical reading and composition courses but I don't think there is much chance of getting them until high school English teachers are freed from some of the chores they now have which have little or anything to do with the teaching of English."

Prof. Miller

BORDER TENSION MOUNTS

JERUSALEM — Israel summoned its ambassadors home from the Big Four capitals Sunday for urgent consultations on the Arab world's decision to bolster the defenses of Jordan.

Frontier tension heightened at reports, swelling for four days, that Iraq will again move troops into the little Arab kingdom with which it was allied in the Palestine war of 1948.

Afield, an Israeli military patrol was reported to have killed two Egyptian guerrillas and captured two others in a skirmish today in the Sdeh Boker area of the central Negeb Desert.

An Israeli spokesman quoted the prisoners as saying the party—armed with grenades and sub-machine guns—had been sent into Israel by Egyptian intelligence officers based in Abu Aegila, on the Sinai peninsula.

Resist Plans
The call to Israeli envoys in Washington, London, Paris and Moscow to return to Jerusalem came on the heels of an announcement by Foreign Minister Golda Meir that Israel is determined to resist what she called "British-Iraqi plans envisaging the entry of troops into Jordan." It was reported Israel may appeal to the U.N. Security Council.

Israeli Foreign Ministry circles said instructions had gone to Ambassador Abba Eban in Washington to inform the U.S. State Department before he left that Israel believed such a troop movement would "bring about a radical change in the Middle East status quo and represent a direct threat to Israel's integrity."

Premier David Ben-Gurion's Cabinet met amid talk in the Israeli sector of Jerusalem that the situation is fraught with renewed danger of war. There was open speculation in the streets on the question: "Will there be another war?"

Ben-Gurion, mastermind as his own defense minister of a reprisal raid policy that has made Jordan its prime target for a month, prepared a 90-minute speech on security and foreign policy for delivery to Parliament Monday.

Consultations
There were consultations in Amman, Jordan's capital, where young King Hussein is confronted by conflicting political and economic pressures as well as the economic boom of the frontier state.

Iraqi Crown Prince Abdul Ilah arrived in Amman at the head of a high-level delegation including Gen. Rafiq Aref, the chief of staff of Iraq's army. An official source said the discussion would center on military cooperation against "Israeli aggression."

There was no confirmation that any Iraqi troop units actually have crossed the border. The Israeli Foreign Office hinted such a crossing would lead to Israeli action.

Four In Lincoln Family Hurt In Malcolm Crash

Four members of a Lincoln family were slightly injured Sunday in an automobile accident west of Malcolm.

The injured: Lawrence Westcott, 44, of 1340 No. 50th, suffered lacerated finger; his wife, Bertha, 48, suffered lacerations on the left cheek and nose; son Michael, 6, suffered contusions and abrasions on the forehead and left knee; daughter, Cheryl, 4, suffered contusions and abrasions to the head and elbow.

All were brought to a Lincoln hospital, treated, and later released.

Dignitaries Attend Unitarian Installation

Rev. Charles W. Phillips, Omaha; the Rev. Robert J. Raible, Dallas, Tex.; Roger V. Dickson, president of the Unitarian Church of Lincoln; the Rev. Randall Hilton, secretary of Western Unitarian Conference; the Rev.

Rev. Peter Raible Installed As Unitarian Minister Here

The Rev. Peter S. Raible, minister of The Lincoln Unitarian Church of Lincoln, was installed as the church's ninth minister in a formal ceremony Sunday.

The congregation was led in the installation service by Roger V. Dickson, president of the church, and the sermon was delivered by Dr. Robert Schacht, minister of the Providence, R.I., Unitarian Church.

Dr. Schacht traced the historical development of Unitarianism, casting its contemporary position as one in which "life for us is the religious life; it is the quality of reverence and thoughtfulness for every angle of helpfulness and danger, in every situation with which we deal, great or small, public or private."

'Instruments of God'
The goal of progress is still ours, he declared, but "with clear recognition that it will not automatically come by God, but only as we—as the instruments of God—labor for it."

We are sure, he continued, that any civilization worthy of the name is one based on strong, sensitive, thoughtful individuals, who by experience and faith are "convinced that only as spiritual objectives . . . can any nation prosper and endure."

The Rev. Josiah R. Bartlett, Dean of the Starr King School for the Ministry, delivered the charge to the minister, and the Rev. Charles W. Phillips of the First Unitarian Church in Omaha gave the charge to the congregation.

Following welcoming addresses from the Western Unitarian Conference and the Iowa Unitarian Association, Rabbi Wolfgang Hamburger of South Street Temple brought greetings from the religious community of Lincoln and former governor Robert Crosby welcomed the Rev. Mr. Raible on behalf of the civic community.

In discussing the tools of religious living, Dr. Schacht said in his address that Francis David, 16th century Unitarian leader, had expressed the Unitarian ideals in a letter to the Unitarian king, Prince John Sigismund:

"There is no greater piece of folly than to try to exercise power over conscience and soul, both of which are subject only to their Creator."

Dr. Schacht asserted that this expression of the use of freedom, reason and tolerance, as indispensable tools for the fullest and finest development of religious living, "are still our tools today."

However, he pointed out, these are tools only to the goal of the "most realistic, wholesome and dynamic faith that our tools can give us, and its most complete personal fulfillment in all our thinking and actions."

In 1951, when enrollment was 13,175, the Lincoln Public Schools were predicted to have an enrollment of 19,000 by 1960. Yet in 1956 the enrollment has already reached 20,091.

River Worker Believed Lost

DAKOTA CITY, Neb. (AP)—Harold Matson, 18, South Sioux City, presumably drowned Sunday when a dump truck he was operating plunged into 30 feet of water at a Missouri River revetment project east of Dakota City.

Search for the body was halted by darkness and was to be resumed Monday. Matson was employed by the P&M Stone Co., Scranton, Iowa, which was supplying the rock for the project.

Dakota County Sheriff Tony Goodsell said apparently no one saw the accident which occurred about 11:30 a.m. The sheriff said the truck was believed to have slipped off the revetment as Matson dumped a load of rock.

The rest of the crew with which Matson worked were eating lunch at a Dakota City cafe when the accident occurred, Goodsell said, and the youth and his truck were not missed for about an hour.

The truck was brought up from the river about 4 p.m. One door was open, Goodsell said, indicating Matson may have tried to jump clear or attempted to escape from the truck cab under water.

The sheriff said young Matson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Matson, could not swim.

'Top Corn' In County

Roger Tyrrell of Waverly and Don Vandertook of Panama won top honors in the Lancaster County "Reach For Top Corn Yields" competition this year.

Associate County Agent Emery Nelson said Tyrrell's yield averaged 134 bushels an acre on his irrigated land. He also won the irrigated land phase of the contest last year with a 109-bushel yield, Nelson said. Bob McGill of Waverly was close behind Tyrrell with a 133-bushel yield on his irrigated land. Eight farmers competed in the irrigated phase of the contest.

Vandertook, although the dry-land yield winner with 114 bushels, also was aided by "irrigation." Both his land and that of second place Harvey Beck of Martell (112 bushels an acre) was flooded earlier this year. The two other participants in the dry land phase cut up their crop for silage.

The contest, Nelson said, gives farmers a chance to improve their yields as well as receive recognition to winners. The University of Nebraska and Extension Service supply contestants with information to aid them and also soil test their land.

A five-acre plot on the farmer's land is picked in a pre-determined manner, Nelson said, assuring a high degree of accuracy in estimating yields.

Results of the state contest, Nelson added, will be announced in about one month. He added that several counties have reported contestants with 150-bushel yields, and that the top men in this county will probably have "about average" yields compared with others in the state.

Among the things a farmer must do to improve his yields, Nelson said, are:

(1) Have a "good stand," or at least 100 stalks per 100 feet of row. Nelson reported that Tyrrell had 113, McGill 111 and Vandertook 87.

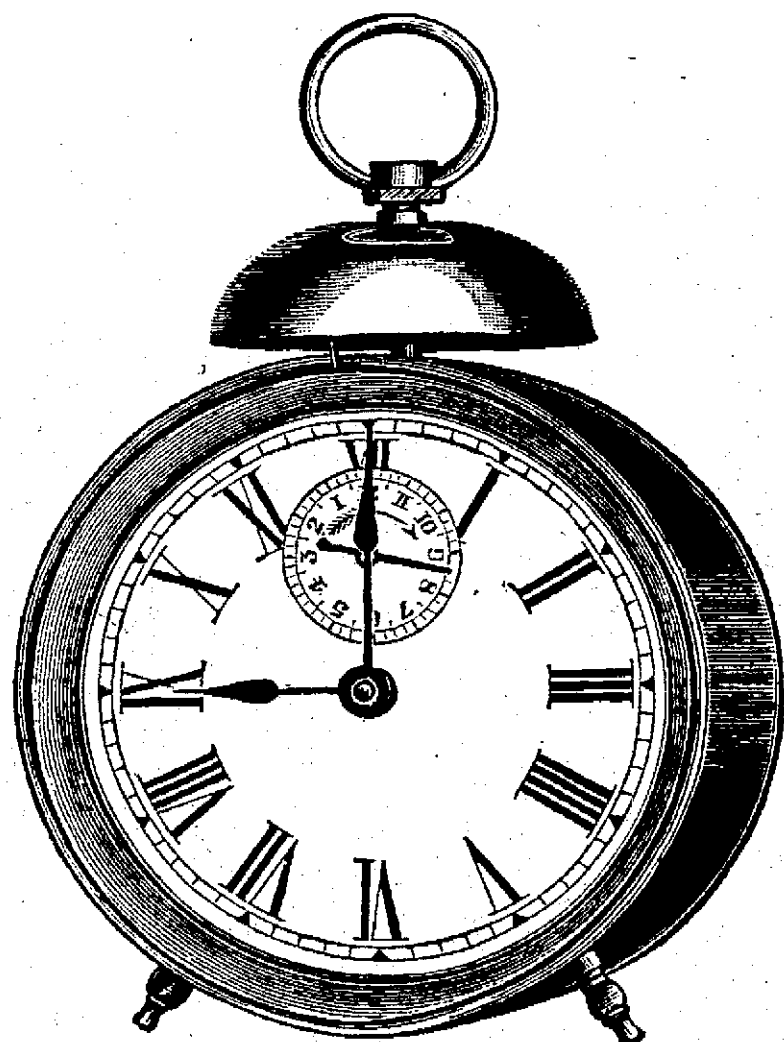

(2) Have adequate fertility. Nelson advised using one pound of nitrogen per bushel of corn that you expect to harvest.

(3) Spray for corn root worms.

(4) Use chemical controls for the corn borer.

(5) Apply plenty of water on irrigated plots at the proper times and always have adequate water available. Nelson estimated that only .003 of the country's farm land is irrigated.

Israeli Ambassadors Go Home For Talks

BORDER TENSION MOUNTS

JERUSALEM—Israel summoned its ambassadors home from the Big Four capitals Sunday for urgent consultations on the Arab world's decision to bolster the defenses of Jordan.

Frontier tension heightened at reports, swelling for four days, that Iraq will again move troops into the little Arab kingdom with which it was allied in the Palestine war of 1948.

Afield, an Israeli military patrol was reported to have killed two Egyptian guerrillas and captured two others in a skirmish today in the Sdeh Boker area of the central Negev Desert.

An Israeli spokesman quoted the prisoners as saying the party—armed with grenades and sub-machine guns—had been sent into Israel by Egyptian intelligence officers based in Abu Ageila, on the Sinai peninsula.

Resist Plans

The call to Israeli envoys in Washington, London, Paris and Moscow to return to Jerusalem came on the heels of an announcement by Foreign Minister Golda Meir that Israel is determined to resist what she called "British-Iraqi plans envisaging the entry of troops into Jordan." It was reported Israel may appeal to the U.N. Security Council.

Israeli Foreign Ministry circles said instructions had gone to Ambassador Abba Eban in Washington to inform the U.S. State Department before he left that Israel believed such a troop movement would "bring about a radical change in the Middle East status quo and represent a direct threat to Israel's integrity."

Premier David Ben-Gurion's Cabinet met amid talk in the Israeli sector of Jerusalem that the situation is fraught with renewed danger of war. There was open speculation in the streets on the question: "Will there be another war?"

Ben-Gurion, mastermind as his own defense minister of a reprisal raid policy that has made Jordan its prime target for a month, prepared a 90-minute speech on security and foreign policy for delivery to Parliament Monday.

Consultations

There were consultations in Amman, Jordan's capital, where young King Hussein is confronted by conflicting political and economic pressures as well as issues born of the frontier strife.

Iraqi Crown Prince Abdul Ilah arrived in Amman at the head of a high-level delegation including Gen. Rafiq Aref, the chief of staff of Iraq's army. An official source said the discussion would center on military cooperation against "Israeli aggression."

There was no confirmation that any Iraqi troop units actually have crossed the border. The Israeli Foreign Office hinted such a crossing would lead to Israeli action.

Four In Lincoln Family Hurt In Malcolm Crash

Four members of a Lincoln family were slightly injured Sunday in an automobile accident west of Malcolm.

The injured: Lawrence Westcott, 44, of 1340 No. 50th, suffered lacerated finger; his wife, Bertha, 48, suffered lacerations on the left cheek and nose; son Michael, 6, suffered contusions and abrasions on the forehead and left knee; daughter, Cheryl, 4, suffered contusions and abrasions to the head and elbow.

All were brought to a Lincoln hospital, treated, and later released.

Dignitaries Attend Unitarian Installation

Rev. Charles W. Phillips, Omaha; the Rev. Robert J. Raible, Dallas, Tex.; Roger V. Dickson, president of the Unitarian Church of Lincoln; the Rev. Randall Hilton, secretary of Western Unitarian Conference; the Rev.

Rev. Peter Raible Installed As Unitarian Minister Here

The Rev. Peter S. Raible, minister of The Lincoln Unitarian Church of Lincoln, was installed as the church's ninth minister in a formal ceremony Sunday.

The congregation was led in the installation service by Roger V. Dickson, president of the church, and the sermon was delivered by Dr. Robert Schacht, minister of the Providence, R.I., Unitarian Church.

Dr. Schacht traced the historical development of Unitarianism, casting its contemporary position as one in which "life for us is the religious life; it is the quality of reverence and thoughtfulness for every angle of helpfulness and danger, in every situation with which we deal, great or small, public or private."

'Instruments of God'

The goal of progress is still ours, he declared, but "with clear recognition that it will not automatically come by God, but only as we—as the instruments of God—labor for it."

We are sure, he continued, that any civilization worthy of the name is one based on strong, sensitive, thoughtful individuals, who by experience and faith are "convinced that only as spiritual objectives . . . can any nation prosper and endure."

The Rev. Josiah R. Bartlett, Dean of the Starr King School for the Ministry, delivered the charge to the minister, and the Rev. Charles W. Phillips of the First Unitarian Church in Omaha gave the charge to the congregation.

Following welcoming addresses from the Western Unitarian Association, Rabbi Wolfgang Hamburger of South Street Temple brought greetings from the religious community of Lincoln and former governor Robert Crosby welcomed the Rev. Mr. Raible on behalf of the civic community.

In discussing the tools of religious living, Dr. Schacht said in his address that Francis David, 16th century Unitarian leader, had expressed the Unitarian ideals in a letter to the Unitarian king, Prince John Sigismund: "There is no greater piece of folly than to try to exercise power over conscience and soul, both of which are subject only to their Creator."

Dr. Schacht asserted that this expression of the use of freedom, reason and tolerance, as indispensable tools for the fullest and finest development of religious living, "are still our tools today."

However, he pointed out, these are tools only to the goal of the "most realistic, wholesome and dynamic faith that our tools can give us, and its most complete personal fulfillment in all our thinking and actions."

Lincoln Schools Building: Expanded Enrollment Is Greatest Problem

Increased Birth Rate

But the birth rate of Lincoln, which nearly doubled from 1940 to 1951, has brought even more children into the schools than could be anticipated.

The Lincoln Public Schools, through the foresight of Superintendent of Schools Steven Watkins and the Board of Education, has managed to keep up with expanded enrollment by making additions to more than 11 elementary schools in the past five years and building a new junior and senior high school.

Seven additions to schools and one new elementary school, Bryan, opened this fall. Two new classrooms have been added to Catholic schools, two more are planned and a $200,000 addition to St. Teresa's elementary school is on the agenda. Piux X High School opened its doors this fall.

The Seventh-day Adventist Union College elementary school is also expected to be completed soon to handle more parochial pupils. Housing developments

The most difficult problems in planning school needs is the uncertain school population in housing developments, which seem to spring up overnight. Even new schools must be added to immediately, as the additions to the new Southeast High School and Millard Lefler Junior High have shown.

Lincoln schools have so far been fortunate in obtaining all the teachers they need because many wives of university and college students are teaching. But Lincoln rates in about the middle on a national scale of teachers salaries and Omaha schools offer $400 more per year as a starting salary.

Three Lincoln men, all 22, were booked at the city jail Sunday in connection with a burglary at the Donald E. Ray apartment at 1626 D.

3 Lincolnites Held On Suspicion Of Burglary

Ray reported a typewriter, electric razor, 12 phonograph records and a watch stolen from his apartment. Police valued the loss at $184.

Adlai Readies H-Bomb Speech

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson put the finishing touches Sunday to the speech he hopes will give his campaign enough lift to pass President Eisenhower in the remaining three weeks of the presidential race.

He delivers the nationally televised speech from Chicago at 10:30 p.m. (CST) Monday over ABC. The subject: Why he believes a way should be found to end the hydrogen bomb tests.

A decision to make the H-bomb ban Stevenson's primary campaign talking point was reached at a two-day weekend conference of Stevenson strategists at his farm here near Chicago.

Nixon a Topic

Another primary campaign topic, Stevenson's top advisors said after Sunday's session, will be Vice President Nixon.

These top Stevenson backers said they see a "public distrust" of Nixon and hope to capitalize on it.

The hydrogen bomb testing issue has brought the Democratic nominee in sharp dispute with Eisenhower—just the sort of situation Stevenson advisors have been hoping for.

After Eisenhower told a news conference last week that he had said his last word on the subject, Stevenson declared there could be no foreclosing of debate and no last word as long as the bursting of hydrogen devices threatened the human race.

Thinks Ike Remiss

Stevenson has made it clear he believes that the Eisenhower administration has been remiss in not trying to end H-bomb tests.

He says that the United States already has enough hydrogen bombs for self defense as a deterrent to war. Continued testing of the big thermonuclear devices, Stevenson says, will fill the air with more charged particles which as a fallout, contaminate people—especially the young, and children yet unborn—so that genetic effects may be disastrous.

As a result of crowd reaction, Stevenson appears to have settled on the H-bomb ban as something people are vitally concerned about. He was pleased with the applause his proposal got at Oakland, Long Beach, and San Diego, in California, last Friday.

'TOO FAT' SARGE SIGNS UP AGAIN

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Sgt. James Love, 34, who was threatened with a court martial at nearby Ft. Carson because he wasn't losing weight fast enough, has re-enlisted in the Army.

He said he wasn't mad at the Army, "just certain individuals."

"I was willing to go along with the program," the Cincinnati, O., native said Sunday. However, when the court martial threat came "I did what I thought was best for everyone."

He protested. A congressman started an investigation. The Pentagon rescinded the weight losing order. Charges against Love were dropped.

He weighed 237 pounds when "Operation Fat Man" was put into effect at the post last March by Maj. Gen. Thomas Wallington, then commanding officer.

Love, who has spent 12 years in the Army, now weighs 220.

NOT HIS FAULT-BUT...

A shaken driver, L. D. Hudgins, 26, sits remorsefully on the front of his auto after colliding with a 14-year-old cyclist, killing him instantly. Police did not make any charge against Hudgins, reporting that the boy rode his bike into the auto's path while attempting to pass the bike his sister was riding. The impact threw the boy through the windshield and caused his bike to hit his sister's. She suffered a fractured hip and internal injuries. (AP Wirephoto.)

AFTER 12 DAYS OF FESTIVITIES RODEO QUEEN RETURNS HOME

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Queen of the International Rodeo—Lincoln's own Dallas Hunt—arrived home Sunday night just four hours after she made her final appearance at the big event in Chicago.

She was a very weary but very happy young lady after her 12-day stay in Chicago which included a constant round of appearances in the International Rodeo, television and radio interviews and visits with national celebrities.

Among other persons, Dallas met the famed singing cowboy Gene Autry and Gail Davis who is TV's

"Annie Oakley"—a "wonderful person" to quote Miss Hunt.

Back to School

Monday will see Dallas trek back to her classes at the University of Nebraska where she is enrolled as a freshman. Miss Hunt said she plans to reduce her schedule to the minimum 12 hours and hopes she will be able to continue her classes for this semester dependent upon what events the International Rodeo schedules for her.

First event definitely scheduled thus far is an appearance at the Denver Stock Show Jan. 10 and then a two-week trip to Brazil the latter part of January or the first part of February. A four-day trip to Las Vegas for a rodeo is slated in May.

In addition to her Brazilian trip, Dallas won boots, a $500 western wardrobe and a $500 expense account for her rodeo trips.

Adlai Readies H-Bomb Speech

LIBERTY VILLE, Ill. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson put the finishing touches Sunday to the speech he hopes will give his campaign enough lift to pass President Eisenhower in the remaining three weeks of the presidential race.

He delivers the nationally televised speech from Chicago at 10:30 p.m. (CST) Monday over ABC. The subject: Why he believes a way should be found to end the hydrogen bomb tests.

A decision to make the H-bomb ban Stevenson's primary campaign talking point was reached at a two-day weekend conference of Stevenson strategists at his farm here near Chicago.

Nixon a Topic

Another primary campaign topic, Stevenson's top advisors said after Sunday's session, will be Vice President Nixon.

"These top Stevenson backers said they see a 'public distrust' of Nixon and hope to capitalize on it.

The hydrogen bomb testing issue has brought the Democratic nominee in sharp dispute with Eisenhower—just the sort of situation Stevenson advisors have been hoping for.

After Eisenhower told a news conference last week that he had said his last word on the subject, Stevenson declared there could be no foreclosure of debate and no last word as long as the bursting of hydrogen devices threatened the human race.

Thinks Ike Remiss

Stevenson has made it clear he believes that the Eisenhower administration has been remiss in not trying to end H-bomb tests.

He says that the United States already has enough hydrogen bombs for self defense as a deterrent to war. Continued testing of the big thermonuclear devices, Stevenson says, will fill the air with more charged particles which as a fallout, contaminate people—especially the young, and children yet unborn—so that genetic effects may be disastrous.

As a result of crowd reaction, Stevenson appears to have settled on the H-bomb ban as something people are vitally concerned about. He was pleased with the applause his proposal got at Oakland, Long Beach, and San Diego, in California, last Friday.

'TOO FAT' SARGE SIGNS UP AGAIN

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —Sgt. James Love, 34, who was threatened with a court martial at nearby Ft. Carson because he wasn't losing weight fast enough, has re-enlisted in the Army.

He said he wasn't mad at the Army, "just certain individuals."

"I was willing to go along with the program," the Cincinnati, O., native said Sunday. However, when the court martial threat came "I did what I thought was best for everyone."

He protested. A congressman started an investigation. The Pentagon rescinded the weight losing order. Charges against Love were dropped.

He weighed 237 pounds when "Operation Fat Man" was put into effect at the post last March by Maj. Gen. Thomas Watlington, then commanding officer.

Love, who has spent 12 years in the Army, now weighs 220.

NOT HIS FAULT-BUT...

make any charge against Hudgins, reporting that the boy rode his bike into the auto's path while attempting to pass the bike his sister was riding. The impact threw the boy through the windshield and caused his bike to hit his sister's. She suffered a fractured hip and internal injuries. (AP Wirephoto.)

AFTER 12 DAYS OF FESTIVITIES RODEO QUEEN RETURNS HOME

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Queen of the International Rodeo—Lincoln's own Dallas Hunt—arrived home Sunday night just four hours after she made her final appearance at the big event in Chicago.

She was a very weary but very happy young lady after her 12-day stay in Chicago which included a constant round of appearances in the International Rodeo, television and radio interviews and visits with national celebrities.

Among other persons, Dallas met the famed singing cowboy Gene Autry and Gail Davis who is TV's

"Annie Oakley"—a "wonderful person" to quote Miss Hunt.

Back to School

Monday will see Dallas trek back to her classes at the University of Nebraska where she is enrolled as a freshman. Miss Hunt said she plans to reduce her schedule to the minimum 12 hours and hopes she will be able to continue her classes for this semester dependent upon what events the International Rodeo schedules for her.

First event definitely scheduled thus far is an appearance at the Denver Stock Show Jan. 10 and then a two-week trip to Brazil the latter part of January or the first part of February. A four-day trip to Las Vegas for a rodeo is slated in May.

In addition to her Brazilian trip, Dallas won boots, a $500 western wardrobe and a $500 expense account for her rodeo trips.

Happy Birthday, Dick

This is to wish Dick the happiest of birthdays. The reference is not to the Vice President, now pounding the hustings in search of votes, but to Dick Tracy, most modern and famous of all fictitious detectives, who appears daily in this newspaper. Tracy was born in two great American newspapers 25 years ago in October. He now appears in more than 450 newspapers, serving more than 60 million readers, and circulated on three continents.

Back there in 1931 Dick Tracy was unmarried when he put in his first appearance.

But true love always wins. Tracy married his boyhood sweetheart, not only married her, but avenged the killer who shot his bride's father. It was that which started Dick Tracy out as a detective. Back through the years the readers will remember the Brow, the Mole, Rughead, Pruneface, Mumbles, and Flat-top. They are only a few in the life of Tracy, ruthless toughies but who in the end invariably were brought to justice.

Let it be said for Dick Tracy that he has for a quarter of a century provided convincing proof that crime does not pay.

Never Had It So Good?

One could safely say that the operating farmer, looking at his parched fields, computing interest and principal payments on the mortgage, totting up the general bills is a better judge of his current economic position than a whole army of partisan high officeholders chanting, "You never had it better."

Perhaps they are right. But if they are then one of their own departments is quite wrong. It comes to us by way of Missouri's Senator Stuart Symington, via the St. Louis Post-Dispatch that the Federal Farm Home Administration has a different story to tell.

At the request of Senator Symington it produced some farming figures that would even impress a city dweller. It studied the record books of 4,412 farmers with whom it did business in 1955. Here is what the FHA found.

The average farm income was $4,057 and average farm expenses were $3,027. Farm living costs averaged $1,197. That is to say that the average farmer took in $4,057 and had to pay out $4,224. According to that he lost $167.

How does he stay on his feet? One way was by getting non-farm employment. If he was lucky enough he averaged $1,046 from outside jobs or investments. If he was not he increased his mortgage or got off the farm.

Actually, the FHA figures show he averaged $670 more total income than in 1948 though $511 less than in 1951. But what got him was farm expenses which rose in eight years from 50 to 75 per cent of his income.

Triumph For Hammarskjold

Foreign Ministers of France, Britain and Egypt influenced by the good offices of Dag Hammarskjold, U.N. secretary, provided the world with some encouraging news at week-end when they said the Suez canal dispute has been reduced to negotiation on six basic principles.

While two of the principles concern Egypt's sovereignty over the canal and the degree to which it will be entitled to canal profits, the greater considerations center around the integrity of the canal as an international service of equal availability to all, not subject to political manipulation.

An agreement to discuss and a willingness to seek a settlement on mutually acceptable points of bargaining is a distinct gain although it does not necessarily follow that there will be agreement on the subjects under discussion. The Suez matter is not over. It is simply in better condition because the principals in the dispute are willing to pursue a reasonable course along agreeable lines. The prospect of a forcible settlement has become dimmer.

A good deal of credit must be given the United Nations' capable Dag Hammarskjold whose labors for peace and reason in this and earlier Near East crises have been of the distinguished, effective order. His is a rising force in the all-important field of world order and a great example of the usefulness of the United Nations.

It is better that the Suez discussion has veered away from an angry dispute over canal rights and toward the loftier subject of fair and amply-protected world service. But the coming negotiations would be made even better if a seventh principle emerged as the prime one—namely that the Egyptian people win something out of this one, not just Nasser or the major powers who are presently opposed to him.

Statehood The Issue

Alaska has held its election. The returns are coming in slowly and as they arrive they are being examined for trends which may have a bearing on the mainland course of the presidential campaign.

It is natural at this stage to give more attention to trends than to other concerns of voting. But what is more on Alaska's mind is statehood and if there is unusual interest up there it is not to be construed as bearing most significantly on the presidency.

It is at this juncture that Alaska has decided to accent the positive, to break with the past practice of hopeful patience—Alaska is electing congressional representatives, not that they can be seated, but in order to bring sharper focus to the territory's petition for statehood.

Congress has not shown up at its best in its treatment of the utterly laudable desire of both Hawaii and Alaska to become numbered with the states. It is indeed a compliment to the United States and a piece of good testimony to our type of society that areas apart from the mainland desire full union. Yet our Congress has treated those petitions with inexplicable restraint.

Thanks To Kirsch

Nebraska appreciates the gift of native art that recently came to the Nebraska State Historical Society by way of its producer Dwight Kirsch.

His gift, "The Seacoast of Nebraska," is a striking portrayal of the shoreline of Nebraska's great Sandhill country. In it Kirsch has caught the strength and the majesty of this distinctive region and in that respect has interpreted a piece of Nebraska more convincing than a thousand books.

It is through art and word as well as acts that a state learns to know itself and in Kirsch's gift the state has gained something of lasting value.

Be Careful

State Game Commission Director Mel Steen says there is no doubt about it. Thirteen whooping cranes have been sighted in north central Nebraska. They are on their way from Alberta, Canada, to their winter playground at the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf. Nebraskans are again reminded that the world supply of whooping cranes is down to 27 and strenuous efforts are being made to keep them from becoming extinct. They merit special protection.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

A member of Ike's team, Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, was busily engaged in spreading the gospel in Nebraska the last two days of the week. He could be grateful for crowd reaction. He could not have bumped into nastier climatic conditions. Nebraskans would have to march back a good many years to find two days during the second week of October to match the 48 hours devoted to Benson's visit in unpleasantness—unseasonable heat, disagreeable winds, and flying dust. Mr. Benson's audiences if not demonstrative or enthusiastic at least were polite. It is not in character in Nebraska even in the heat of a political campaign for Nebraskans to be discourteous.

We hope Mr. Benson learned something during his 48-hour visit. Clearly he has had a pretty fuzzy picture of Nebraska agriculture and for some reason Nebraska's delegation in Congress has been ineffective in getting Nebraska's story across. If Mr. Benson had an ear to the ground he discovered that business in the small towns—and for that matter in some of the more populous centers—is beginning to "hurt." The squeeze on the farmer is reflecting itself in other channels. Were it not for employment in town a good many Nebraskans would be harder pressed than they are. Granted there is no simple answer we trust Secretary Benson in his Nebraska visit found out how silly some of his recent utterances have sounded. The farmers of the plains area are hit—not only because of drought cutting in on production but also because commodity price levels are so low under Benson's program that the farmer has been forced to operate at punishing losses.

Benson's visit should serve one useful purpose, however. If Nebraska farmers are thinking this presidential campaign of 1956 through, they can reach only one conclusion. November's referendum is not to determine policy for a few months or a few years. Its echoes will affect Congress for many years to come. The farmer who anticipates that if Benson discovers his "noble" experiment with flexible price supports turns out to be a dud is kidding himself if he thinks the administration will turn back to rigid supports at 90 per cent of parity. An Eisenhower victory next month will shape farm policy for perhaps the next 20 years. That is the real nature of the mandate to be delivered next-month.

This issue on farm supports comes before the people of the nation for final determination. An Eisenhower victory means it will be said on both seaboards that the millions who live on the farms and in the towns and cities of the Middle West are opposed permanently to any type of farm plan that seeks to support commodity prices on the basis of 90 per cent of parity. That, it seems, would be the only conclusion Congress could reach in the event the great food-producing states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota, Nebraska and Kansas, the Dakotas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Texas contribute to the re-election of President Eisenhower. There would be no turning back to something that had been, even if that something contributed to farm prosperity from 1946 to 1953. The choice is clear and it is for the people on the farms to make their choice.

We are told that the road to a prosperous rural America embraces greatly reduced production. It is a curious attitude in a nation where always the emphasis has been upon abundance. What Nebraskans must face up with is that if they permit Mr. Benson to convince them he is building a healthy prosperous agriculture they will find themselves stuck with it for the rest of their lives. We doubt that Benson's staunchest supporters have that much faith in the Benson program after the experiences of the last two years.

Javits Bolsters New York GOP

WASHINGTON — Biggest political bonanza of the presidential campaign has been handed ex-Congressman Jake Javits of New York, now running for the Senate, after he came to Washington to speed up a $75,000,000 loan to Israel.

Javits, now the Republican attorney general of New York, is running for the Senate seat of retiring Sen. Herbert Lehman, Democrat. And one day after Mayor Bob Wagner of New York, Javits' opponent, urged that arms be given free to Israel, Javits hied himself to Washington.

There he saw President Eisenhower, urged him to speak in New York. Then he saw Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. After leaving Dulles' office, Javits, who knows his way around Washington, went down to the State Department press room and corralled apathetic reporters who hadn't paid much attention to his conference with the secretary of state.

He told them that he had urged Dulles to grant a $75,000,000 loan to Israel.

Actually this loan has been in the works for some time. The Israeli government had applied to the Export-Import Bank for the loan and there has been every expectation that the loan would be granted.

However, thanks to the frantic appeal of Jacob Javits and the GOP desire to win a Senate seat from New York, the loan not only is being announced earlier, but is being announced by Secretary of State Dulles himself, who has little to do with the Export-Import Bank.

At first it was proposed that President Eisenhower announce the loan to Israel when he went to New York to speak for Javits. This was finally ruled out as too political. Also Dulles has aroused much bitterness among Jews, so it was considered expedient to let him make the announcement.

Javits surprised New York voters by defeating Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., for attorney general in 1954, despite the fact that Averell Harriman and the Democrats carried other state offices. Javits polled a big Jewish vote, even though the Roosevelt family had carried almost 100 per cent of Jewish voters in the past.

This year, however, Mayor Wagner, a Catholic, has shown strong support in New York City, which is heavily Jewish. Many New York Jews are disgusted with the Eisenhower administration for its refusal to sell arms to Israel and with Dulles' handling of the Suez question.

FURIOUS FRENCH

The French are so sizzling mad at Secretary Dulles for his unpredictable performance on the Suez Canal crisis that they could fry. Not since the end of the war has there been such anti-American feeling in France as there is now.

Premier Mallet not only believes Dulles has betrayed France but has sided with Egypt—now considered France's mortal enemy because it is openly helping rebels shoot French soldiers in Algeria.

The French cabinet is so furious it has vowed to oppose Egypt singlehandedly if necessary, no matter what the United States does. This may be a bluff, but the American embassy is genuinely alarmed and has warned the State Department the French will not give up as they did in Indochina.

NEW YORK (INS) — A recent piece here on the names of hurricanes brings a letter from a lady who lives in Belton, S.C., and who just about never misses.

"I don't know if it's an honor or a disgrace to have a hurricane named for you," she writes. "Two of the worst were Hazel and Irene. My name is Hazel Irene Cushman."

"Last night, with hurricane Flossy threatening to blow off our roof, my husband came home from work and stumbled over the pots and pans I had placed under the leaks. He looked around and said, 'Well, Flossy, you really got things going right this time, haven't you?'"

MARQUIS CHILDS

Crowds Not Sure Voter Criterion

WASHINGTON — It was said by the cynical politician of an earlier and simpler era that they would come out to see a dead whale on a flaccid. Meaning, it is hardly necessary to add, that the crowd could always be counted on to turn out to hear the candidate speak from the rear platform down at the railway station.

But profound changes are taking place in American life, and crowds, particularly political crowds, are not so predictable as they once were. What they may or may not mean in terms of votes is likewise even more uncertain than in the recent past.

Political organizers are discovering in this campaign that, what with television and the hideous difficulties of traffic and parking, it is harder and harder to get people out of their homes.

This is, after all, the year when the Ringling Brothers Circus folded its tents for the last time and stole away into at least temporary oblivion. The political circus has been encountering some of the same trouble with the customers.

President Eisenhower at Des Moines and Pittsburgh drew huge crowds that gave every evidence of friendly enthusiasm. His partisans are convinced that this means votes, a popular outpouring that presages an electoral victory almost as big as that of four years ago.

But crowds have proved deceptive in the past and they could be deceptive again. In the first place, it would be remarkable if people did not turn out to see a President of the United States as popular as Mr. Eisenhower with the glamour of his military record to buttress the attraction of the man who holds the most powerful office in the world.

Will these same curious spectators vote for him? We shall not know the answer until November 7.

Curiosity about a personality is surely a crowd factor. Big crowds—the largest up to that time—turned out to see Al Smith when he was running against Herbert Hoover in 1928. The Brown Derby, the legend of the boy from the Fulton fish market, his twangy voice were all elements that drew the customers out to see him. They had to go out, since in that quaint day there was no television. Smith carried only eight states.

If crowds were to be taken as the sole test, there could be no doubt of the outcome of the election. But back of the presence of people in the streets are two imponderables. One is timing and the other is organization.

President Eisenhower came in to Pittsburgh about 5 o'clock as office workers were pouring out of downtown buildings. Traffic was blocked off and the crowd quickly swelled to seven and eight deep along his route.

If he had come at 3 o'clock the story might have been different. That is, it might have been different unless the Republican organization had been hard at work to insure a turnout.

There are many things that organization can do. The schools can be dismissed, for example, and cheering school children waving flags along the line of march make a brave show. Office and other workers can be given half an hour off to watch the candidate go by.

All this takes influence and money, which the Republicans have in far greater measure than the Democrats. To get out a political crowd when there is so much competition for the citizen's attention takes a vast amount of organization.

BILL DOBLER At The City Hall

Form Of Government Not The Fault

Objection to the present form of city government has often been made on the grounds that it required too much time of the City Council.

Some what related to this is a statement made by Councilman Ray Osborn to the City Charter Revision Committee.

Osborn told the group that if there was a session of the city council in operation between city departmental heads, it was the fault of the City Council, not the form of government.

There is a lot of truth in that and it is likewise a lot of the Council's fault when it finds itself burdened with too many details. A good example of this is the way the Council has handled the question of sidewalks along the south side of Van Dorn from 20th to 24th.

This problem has been before the Council every Monday for about four weeks. Each Monday, the subject is brought up and some time spent in discussing it. But instead of making a decision in the matter, the Council decided to have studies made of the traffic and pedestrian travel at Van Dorn and 24th. What they hope to accomplish by this in the way of a solution is hard to understand.

The Council knows without such counts that Van Dorn carries a lot of traffic and it knows also that some children cross Van Dorn between 20th and 24th to get to Irving School. The only question is, does the Council approve of a walk or not? It makes no conceivable difference if there are five children crossing the street or 50.

If a sidewalk is considered essential for the safety of the children, the number of children is of no consequence. However, in addition to wasting all the time it has on the subject, the Council will spend another long session hearing the reports on traffic and pedestrian counts. If these counts are of any value, it would be enlightening to know the maximum number which determines the installation of a sidewalk. Does 10 children a street mean no sidewalk and more than 10 mean the walk goes in?

The trouble is, the Council puts too many things off with reports, committees, studies and many other devices. Frequently, when ordinances come up for third and final reading, at least one and sometimes four or five members of the Council want a week's delay to find out what the ordinance is all about. Why don't they do this on first or second reading and be ready to vote on third reading?

New Dictator
Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: There is no greater appeal to the human desire than peace and rightly so, for it may be the claim to life for ourselves and our loved ones.

But who can claim credit for peace or be assured that we have peace? The generation between the two world wars desired peace just as earnestly as we do. Why was it impossible for them to keep peace?

There will be many answers to this question, but as good a simple answer as can be given is the rise to power of the dictator states of Italy, Japan and Germany.

Were United States policies a factor in the success of these dictators? They most certainly were. The United States' advantageous debt settlement to Italy for an interest rate of four-tenths of one per cent as against three and one-half per cent to Great Britain gave Mussolini the economic breath of survival. The Washington Naval disarmament and sinking of our dozen new battleships along with restriction of our bases in the West Pacific gave the Japanese war lords the advantages by which they defied us a decade later and were able to attack at Pearl Harbor when the world was in crisis.

The United States bankers credit and the debt moratorium of the 1920's and early 1930's gave Hitler's Germany the economic foundation to defy the European world and launch the greatest war in history.

It is a serious matter to encourage and sustain a dictator. Whatever may come out of the present Suez crisis, a new dictator star has risen in the near East. The Communists have sensed the opportunity. Dictators are nourished by aggression and successes against their neighbors. The end is not yet.

Peace is not made or lost in a day or a season. It is the working out of policies over the years. The politicians' claim of peace may be premature. An intelligent public will reject these political boasts.

War Prices
Lincoln, Neb.

To The editor of The Lincoln Star: During the war a customer and friend of mine came into my store with a check which he had received for his corn crop. I asked him what he had received per bushel and he replied $2.63. Then I said, "That's a very good price isn't it?"

"Yes," he answered, "too good. I would rather have received only $1 per bushel and have my boys at home with me."

Some time later he came in all broken up and said that "one of my boys was killed in battle in France; that's what $2.63 corn does."

The man never was the same after that. A few months later he died suddenly of a broken heart. I wonder how many thousands died of the same cause. We know that there were enough tears shed to float the Battleship Missouri. Yes, Mr. Carter and Mr. Mathews, we should all get on our knees and thank God that we live in peace and that we have more to eat and more to wear and more recipients of hand-outs than any other country on earth. Then we should thank God for a God-fearing President who puts human value above dollars. Yes, Ike stopped the killing of our boys in Korea.

Which would you rather have, the $1 corn and have your boys at home or the $2.63 corn and have your boys killed on foreign soil? Yet, the haberdasher from

The Council also has a host of two and three - member committees made up of its own membership to take care of certain things. There is an auditorium committee, a real estate committee, a purchasing committee, a power committee and many others which are brought into play at various times. These are not the same as the citizens advisory groups which assist the Council so ably in many cases, but are offshoots or arms of the Council itself.

There is no need for these committees if the department heads are doing the job they are being paid for. But rather than try to get the job it wants out of the departments, the Council has chosen to do the work itself.

This should not be the case. The department heads should produce as they are expected to do or be replaced. What magic is there about a city job which permits its holder to do as he pleases and still be on the payroll?

Actually, there would be little need for the ultimatum type of action by the Council. If the directors of the departments knew what was expected of them and that lack of performance would not be tolerated, many of the Council's problems would be dissolved and its administrative work diminished.

However, directors have been more inclined to go the opposite way and bring all problems to the Council for solution when the decision to be made is purely administrative. The Council could well use some new rules of procedure in its dealings with both the public and employees. The Council's confidence should be placed in the directors and if that confidence is abused, the director should go, not the confidence.

Another cause of useless delay and wasted time is laying ordinances over at the request of interested parties. This was carried to extreme last week when one party interested in defeat of an ordinance called during the pre-Council meeting to ask for a week continuance. Other parties, on the same side of the fence, were at the meeting and presented their arguments.

However, the ordinance was laid over and the entire subject will be hashed over again Monday. There needs to be more emphasis placed on hearing matters at the time set for them. Extensions of time are sometimes necessary but it is becoming routine when it should be a rare exception.

Avoca, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: When a chief executive of the nation neglects his nation's most vital basic industry as Eisenhower has neglected agriculture he automatically deprives himself of the honor of being a wise, successful statesman and also denies himself the right to be returned to the presidency.

The only attention agriculture got from Eisenhower was from his lips at the approach of a national election. His golden campaign promise of a one hundred percent parity, promised to lure the farmer to his support at the polls, and his administered flexible parity price squeeze amounts to quite a disregard for integrity.

His so-called farm legislation is temporary, flexible and complicated, making it vulnerable to tampering and capitalizing by special interests who dominate the GOP and the administration. Anything durable and lasting for agriculture was purposely avoided and all the blame for the squeeze on the farmers and the small businessmen can be placed squarely on the shoulders of President Eisenhower, who bought the farmers' vote with a one hundred percent promise. His promises are typical of the Herbert Hoover campaign promises of a chicken in every dinner pail and two cars in every garage if elected. After election he did nothing but talk and let the nation's vital affairs go to the dogs under the guidance of Wall Street and big business.

Incidentally, Mr. Hoover was lauded as a great American at the recent Republican convention, something for the skeptical to ponder.

Happy Birthday, Dick

This is to wish Dick the happiest of birthdays. The reference is not to the Vice President, now pounding the hustings in search of votes, but to Dick Tracy, most modern and famous of all fictitious detectives, who appears daily in this newspaper. Tracy was born in two great American newspapers 25 years ago in October. He now appears in more than 450 newspapers, serving more than 60 million readers, and circulated on three continents.

Back there in 1931 Dick Tracy was unmarried when he put in his first appearance.

Never Had It So Good?

One could safely say that the operating farmer, looking at his parched fields, computing interest and principal payments on the mortgage, totting up the general bills is a better judge of his current economic position than a whole army of partisan high officeholders chanting, "You never had it better."

Perhaps they are right. But if they are then one of their own departments is quite wrong.

It comes to us by way of Missouri's Senator Stuart Symington, via the St. Louis Post-Dispatch that the Federal Farm Home Administration has a different story to tell.

At the request of Senator Symington it produced some farming figures that would even impress a city dweller. It studied the record books of 4,412 farmers with whom it did business in 1955. Here is what the FHA found:

The average farm income was $4,057 and average farm expenses were $3,027. Farm living costs averaged $1,197. That is to say that the average farmer took in $4,057 and had to pay out $4,224. According to that he lost $167.

How does he stay on his feet? One way was by getting non-farm employment. If he was lucky enough he averaged $1,046 from outside jobs or investments. If he was not he increased his mortgage or got off the farm.

Actually, the FHA figures show, he averaged $670 more total income than in 1948 though $511 less than in 1951. But what got him was farm expenses which rose in eight years from 50 to 75 per cent of his income.

Triumph For Hammarskjold

Foreign Ministers of France, Britain and Egypt influenced by the good offices of Dag Hammarskjold, U.N. secretary, provided the world with some encouraging news at week-end when they said the Suez canal dispute has been reduced to negotiation on six basic principles.

While two of the principles concern Egypt's sovereignty over the canal and the degree to which it will be entitled to canal profits, the greater considerations center around the integrity of the canal as an international service of equal availability to all, not subject to political manipulation.

An agreement to discuss and a willingness to seek a settlement on mutually acceptable points of bargaining is a distinct gain although it does not necessarily follow that there will be agreement on the subjects under discussion. The Suez matter is not over. It is simply in better

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

A member of Ike's team, Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, was busily engaged in spreading the gospel in Nebraska the last two days of the week. He could be grateful for crowd reaction. He could not have bumped into nastier climatic conditions. Nebraskans would have to march back a good many years to find two days during the second week of October to match the 48 hours devoted to Benson's visit in unpleasantness—unseasonable heat, disagreeable winds, and flying dust. Mr. Benson's audiences if not demonstrative or enthusiastic at least were polite. It is not in character in Nebraska even in the heat of a political campaign for Nebraskans to be discourteous.

We hope Mr. Benson learned something during his 48-hour visit. Clearly he has had a pretty fuzzy picture of Nebraska agriculture and for some reason Nebraska's delegation in Congress has been ineffective in getting Nebraska's story across. If Mr. Benson had an ear to the ground he discovered that business in the small towns—and for that matter in some of the more populous centers—is beginning to "hurt." The squeeze on the farmer is reflecting itself in other channels. Were it not for employment in town a good many Nebraskans would be harder pressed than they are. Granted there is no simple answer we trust Secretary Benson in his Nebraska visit found out how silly some of his recent utterances have sounded. The farmers of the plains area are hit—hit not only because of drought cutting in on production but also because commodity price levels are so low under Benson's program that the farmer has been forced to operate at punishing losses.

Benson's visit should serve one useful purpose, however. If Nebraska farmers are thinking this presidential campaign of 1956 through, they can reach only one conclusion. November's referendum is not to determine policy for a few months or a few years. Its echoes will affect Congress for many years to come. The farmer who anticipates that if Benson discovers his 'noble' experiment with flexible price supports turns out to be a dud is kidding himself if he thinks the administration will turn back to rigid supports at 90 per cent of parity. An Eisenhower victory next month will shape farm policy for perhaps the next 20 years. That is the real nature of the mandate to be delivered next-month.

NEW YORK (INS) — A recent piece here on the names of hurricanes brings a letter from a lady who lives in Belton, S.C., and who just about never misses.

"I don't know if it's an honor or a disgrace to have a hurricane named for you," she writes. "Two of the worst were Hazel and Irene. My name is Hazel Irene Cushman."

"Last night, with hurricane Flossy threatening to blow off our roof, my husband came home from work and stumbled over the pots and pans I had placed under the leaks. He looked around and said, 'Well, Flossy, you really got things going right this time, haven't you?'"

"You see, while Hazel Irene has been my name, or names, officially, I've been known as Flossy since I was a little girl."

The Weather Bureau should give up and name the next one Cushman.

Like Mickey Mantle's home runs, movies are now being graded by their length. We went to see "Giant" the other night. It's about Texas, but much bigger.

My friend Henry Ginsberg is said to have snipped enough out of it to make a picture called

Crowds Not Sure Voter Criterion

WASHINGTON — It was said by the cynical politician of an earlier and simpler era that they would come out to see a dead whale on a flatcar. Meaning, it is hardly necessary to add, that the crowd could always be counted on to turn out to hear the candidate speak from the rear platform down at the railway station.

But profound changes are taking place in American life, and crowds, particularly political crowds, are not so predictable as they once were. What they may or may not mean in terms of votes is likewise even more uncertain than in the recent past.

Political organizers are discovering in this campaign that, what with television and the hideous difficulties of traffic and parking, it is harder and harder to get people out of their homes.

This is, after all, the year when the Ringling Brothers Circus folded its tents for the last time and stole away into at least temporary oblivion. The political circus have been encountering some of the same trouble with the customers.

President Eisenhower came into Pittsburgh about 5 o'clock as office workers were pouring out of downtown buildings. Traffic was blocked off and the crowd quickly swelled to seven and eight deep along his route.

If he had come at 3 o'clock the story might have been different. That is, it might have been different unless the Republican organization had been hard at work to insure a turnout.

There are many things that organization can do. The schools can be dismissed, for example, and cheering school children waving flags along the line of march make a brave show. Office and other workers can be given half an hour off to watch the candidate go by.

All this takes influence and money, which the Republicans have in far greater measure than the Democrats. To get out a political crowd when there is so much competition for the citizen's attention takes a vast amount of organization.

Statehood The Issue

Alaska has held its election. The returns are coming in slowly and as they arrive they are being examined for trends which may have a bearing on the mainland course of the presidential campaign.

It is natural at this stage to give more attention to trends than to other concerns of voting. But what is more on Alaska's mind is statehood and if there is unusual interest up there it is not to be construed as bearing most significantly on the presidency.

It is at this juncture that Alaska has decided to accent the positive, to break with the past practice of hopeful patience.—Alaska is electing congressional representatives, not that they can be seated, but in order to bring sharper focus to the territory's petition for statehood.

Congress has not shown up at its best in its treatment of the utterly laudable desire of both Hawaii and Alaska to become numbered with the states. It is indeed a compliment to the United States and a piece of good testimony to our type of society that areas apart from the mainland desire full union. Yet our Congress has treated those petitions with inexplicable restraint.

Thanks To Kirsch

Nebraska appreciates the gift of native art that recently came to the Nebraska State Historical Society by way of its producer Dwight Kirsch.

His gift, "The Seacoast of Nebraska," is a striking portrayal of the shoreline of Nebraska's great Sandhill country. In it Kirsch has caught the strength and the majesty of this distinctive region and in that respect has interpreted a piece of Nebraska more convincing than a thousand books.

It is through art and word as well as acts that a state learns to know itself and in Kirsch's gift the state has gained something of lasting value.

Be Careful

State Game Commission Director Mel Steen says there is no doubt about it. Thirteen whooping cranes have been sighted in north central Nebraska. They are on their way from Alberta, Canada, to their winter playground at the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas gulf. Nebraskans are again reminded that the world supply of whooping cranes is down to 27 and strenuous efforts are being made to keep them from becoming extinct. They merit special protection.

Stella Girl Dies Of Car Crash Injuries

Lincoln Star Special
FALLS CITY, Neb. — Patricia Louane West, 16 of Stella, died of injuries early Sunday morning after being involved in a one-car accident about 2:45 a.m. Sunday one mile north of Falls City on Highway 73.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Keith Ramsey of Omaha Richardson County Sheriff Ervin Gates said Ramsey apparently lost control of the car and it rolled over, bounced off several trees and back onto the highway.

Miss West was thrown about 50 feet Sheriff Gates said. Ramsey and another passenger, Tom Raley of Shubert were treated at a Falls City hospital and released.

Sheriff Gates said he did not believe that any charges would be filed.

Funeral services for Miss West, a 10th-grader at Stella High School, will be held at Stella.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Lillie West of Stella; father, James N. West of Port Townsend, Wash.; four sisters, Mrs. Annel Rue of Table Rock, Mrs. Wilber Rogers of Verdon, Mrs. Ted Wiscup of Gypsum, Colo., and Mrs. Fred Blewins of Humboldt; four brothers, James of St. Joseph, Mo. John of Lawrence, Kan., Ralph of Beatrice and Royal, with the U. S. Marine Corps in San Diego, Calif.

The death was the 236th fatality in Nebraska this year, compared to 245 on that date in 1955.

Oak-Middle Creek Watershed Work Progresses With Plans For Easements

Lincoln Star Special

DWIGHT, Neb. — Another step forward in the Oak-Middle Creek Watershed project in southeastern Butler county has been taken with landowners in the area reviewing preliminary plans and granting easements to the Butler County Soil Conservation District so the work can proceed.

The owners of farm land in the area two miles east of Dwight, where the first watershed dam is to be constructed, met with Soil Conservation Service engineers to examine the plans and to make a personal inspection of the proposed damsite known as project No. 67-A in the Oak-Middle Creek Watershed.

Landowners present were Mrs. Katherine Stava, Ray Davis, Anton and Cyril Sisel, Frank Semin and John Kolar. Axel Boleson, project engineer for the Upper Salt and Oak-Middle Creek Watersheds, and Bob Nelson, SCS area engineer, outlined the plans to the farmers. Also present were Frank Waul of Loma, member of the Butler County Soil Conservation District board of supervisors, and Arnold Davis of David City, SCS work unit conservationist.

Ike Congratulates Hastings College

HASTINGS, Neb. — President Eisenhower has sent a letter of congratulations to Hastings College on its 75th anniversary.

The letter, addressed to Dr. Dale Welch, president of the college, said in part:

"I hope the coming years for Hastings College will be rich in the satisfactions which come from thorough and imaginative service to the causes of education and good citizenship in the interest of the National community."

Dr. Evelyn Duvall To Talk At Family Institute In Omaha

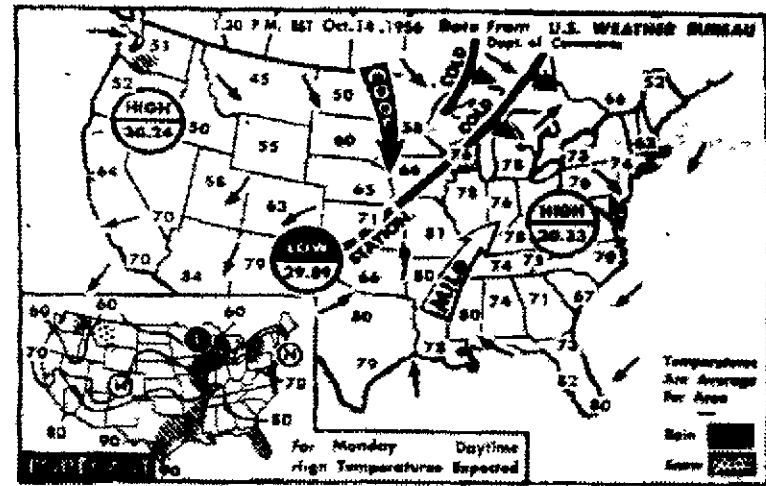

Members of the Nebraska Council on Family Life Education will participate on a group basis in the Omaha Family Institute on Wednesday, with a large delegation attending from Lincoln, and other members attending from outstate.

Dr. Evelyn Mills Duvall, noted author, speaker and consultant in Family Relations, will be the featured speaker. The sessions will be held at 1:15 p.m. and at 8 p.m. in Fontenelle School, 3905 N. 52nd.

"The Modern Family" will be the subject of the afternoon address by Dr. Duvall, and "Keeping Up With Teen-Agers" will be discussed at the evening session.

Dr. Duvall is widely known as the author of "Facts of Life and Love for Teen-Agers" and other books in the field of family relations. She is a consultant for the National Council of Family Relations, a member of the Child Study Association of America, the American Association of Marriage Counselors, the American Institute of Family Relations, and the Society for Research and Child Development.

The Nebraska Family Life Council annually participates in the Omaha Family Institute, which is sponsored by the Omaha PTA, Public Schools, and Omaha University.

Tri-County Irrigation Farmers Making Good Use Of Fall Water—Ag Engineer

HOLDREGE, Neb. (N)—Farmers in the Tri-County irrigated area are making greater use of fall water than in previous years.

L. G. Mathieu, agricultural and drainage engineer stationed at Holdrege, said the water being made available is discharge from the hydro generators.

The generators are operating on minimum water needs and no extra water is being taken from Lake McConaughy for fall irrigation, Mathieu said.

Difference

The difference this year is that farmers are making use of the water where in previous years it has been returned to the river.

The main advantages of fall irrigation are replenishment of the sub-soil and better aeration of the topsoil because of the freezing of the extra moisture in it, Mathieu explained.

In addition, he said, some of the fall irrigation water will still be available in the top-soil for spring crops. The amount will depend on the type of winter—how wet and how cold it is.

The storage level at Lake McConaughy dropped below 400,000 acre feet this week for the first time since early in 1942. That was when the reservoir was first filling after a slow start in 1941.

life insurance

Americans now own more than twice as much life insurance as they did just ten years ago. Today, about 9 out of every 10 fathers own one or more life insurance policies.

Through life insurance they can be sure of immediate protection for the amount they have planned for their families. It's money they can count on. And, because life insurance is flexible, they can fit its protection to their particular family needs.

Your own policies offer various choices that can help you keep your life insurance protection in line with your family's changing needs. Making the wisest choice calls for experienced help. The best person to advise you is your own life insurance agent.

You will also find helpful suggestions in the new booklet, Your Life Insurance—and How to Use It, which we have prepared as a service for America's policyholders. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. A.

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (P)—The Scotts Bluff County Democratic Committee has promised Vice Presidential Candidate Estes Kefauver that if he'll come there to speak they'll hire "Terry's Arena," owned by the creator of the mythical Joe Smith.

County Chairman Hans J. Holtorf said a personal invitation was taken to Sen. Kefauver at his Columbus appearance.

"Terry's Arena" is owned by Terry Carpenter, the Nebraska Republican National Convention delegate who sought to nominate the mythical Joe Smith for Vice President. Joe Smith has been a name frequently heard in the campaign since that time and Democratic Presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson even travels in a plane labeled the "Joe Smith Express."

Difference
 The difference this year is that farmers are making use of the water where in previous years it has been returned to the river. The main advantages of fall irrigation are replenishment of the sub-soil and better aeration of the topsoil because of the freezing of the extra moisture in it, Mathieu explained.

In addition, he said, some of the

Tri-County Irrigation Farmers Making Good Use Of Fall Water—Ag Engineer

HOLDREGE, Neb. (P)—Farmers in the Tri-County irrigated area are making greater use of fall water than in previous years.

L. G. Mathieu, agricultural and drainage engineer stationed at Holdrege, said the water being made available is discharge from the hydro generators.

The generators are operating on minimum water needs and no extra water is being taken from Lake McConaughy for fall irrigation, Mathieu said.

The storage level at Lake McConaughy dropped below 400,000 acre feet this week for the first time since early in 1942. That was when the reservoir was first filling after a slow start in 1941.

Americans now own more than twice as much life insurance as they did just ten years ago. Today, about 9 out of every 10 fathers own one or more life insurance policies.

Through life insurance they can be sure of immediate protection for the amount they have planned for their families. It's money they can count on. And, because life insurance is flexible, they can fit its protection to their particular family needs.

Your own policies offer various choices that can help you keep your life insurance protection in line with your family's changing needs. Making the wisest choice calls for experienced help. The best person to advise you is your own life insurance agent.

You will also find helpful suggestions in the new booklet, Your Life Insurance—and How to Use It, which we have prepared as a service for America's policyholders. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. A.

Brunch Honors Joyce Johnson

When Mrs. George Frampton and her daughter, Mrs. Marcus Dittman entertained at a brunch on Saturday morning, it was to honor bride-elect Miss Joyce Johnson whose marriage to William Stanford Olson will be solemnized on Nov. 23.

Included among the guests were Mr. Olson's mother, Mrs. Harold B. Olson of Lisco; and his sisters, Mrs. Charles Ferguson of Milford, and Mrs. Gene Eaton.

Following the brunch the morning hours were spent informally and the soon-to-be-bride was presented with a miscellaneous shower.

Standing at the back is Mrs. Charles Ferguson of Milford.

DISCOVERED that there were some unheralded guests in town for the week-end—namely—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Agee of Omaha who were down for the Foster-Haecker pre-game luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club on Saturday—and the game—and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Roth of Salina, Kan., who were the week-end guests of Mr. Roth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Roth.

FOUND another party on this week's calendar for Miss Joyce Johnson—On Saturday Miss Johnson, who is to marry William S. Olson on Nov. 23, will be honored when Mrs. Lillian Skold is hostess at a 10:30 o'clock brunch at Hotel Cornhusker. Places will be arranged for 10, and the bride-elect will be presented with a shower.

UNDERSTAND that the Rev. and Mrs. Tom Johnson entertained at an open house between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon in courtesy to the Rev. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Johnson of Buffalo, N. Y., who planned in on Friday afternoon.

Mr. Johnson will leave today to fly back to Buffalo, but Mrs. Johnson will remain for a longer visit.

DESPITE the fact that Mrs. Frank B. O'Connell is not a candidate for anything, she has a schedule that equals the front runners in either political party. Mrs. O'Connell already is the president—of the Women's Overseas Service League, and as such she spoke on Saturday evening before the Milwaukee unit of the organization—speaks in Chicago today—appears in Denver on Thursday, and is scheduled for another speech in Seattle on Friday.

We suspect that following the Seattle address Mrs. O'Connell will return home, but she barely will have time to catch her breath before her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. O'Connell arrive from Kingsport, Tenn. — and her daughter, Mrs. Don Reid and her children, Katherine and Barbara, arrive from Denver.

Dr. and Mrs. O'Connell and Mrs. Reid and her children plan to spend at least a week as the guests of Col. and Mrs. O'Connell.

Sorosis Club Plans Program

The October meeting of Sorosis will be held on Tuesday afternoon when the members will meet for a 1 o'clock, no-hostess luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club. Following the luncheon, the group will go to the home of Mrs. Clarence Emerson for a program on "Summer Reminiscences."

Alumnae

The Alumnae of Chi Omega sorority will meet with the members of the active chapter Monday evening at the chapter house for a program to begin at 7:30 o'clock.

During the business meeting, a report will be given by the Building Association, and new board members will be elected. Following a dessert supper, the evening hours will be spent with bridge.

Members of the hostess committee will be Mrs. Harold Marks, Mrs. Roy Cochran, Mrs. Edgar Cole, Mrs. Carl Fredrickson, Mrs. David Whitworth, Mrs. John Wilson and Miss Barbara Hemphill.

Had Sunday Ceremony

MRS. DARRELL LEE ULRICH

At a late afternoon ceremony solemnized on Sunday, Oct. 14, Miss Kathleen Ann Larsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Larsen, became the bride of Darrell Lee Ulrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ulrich. Clusters of lighted white candles and bouquets of autumn-toned chrysanthemums decorated the chancel of the First Lutheran Church for the 4 o'clock service, which was read by the Rev. Sabin J. Swenson, and the wedding music was played by Miss Mildred Ohlson, organist. Miss Ohlson also accompanied Paul Sieck, the vocal soloist.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Carolyn Larsen appeared in a sheath frock of russet velvet accented by a widely-flaring overskirt of matching taffeta caught to the slim waist by a cummerbund of crushed taffeta. A circlet of taffeta petals dotted with pearls and veiled with illusion formed her head-dress, and she carried a cascade of gold and bronze-toned pom-poms. Wearing identical ensembles in avocado green velvet and taffeta were the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Perrigo, Fremont, Miss Cheryl Stokes, Cedar Bluffs, and Miss Emma Mengel, Miss Peggy Dinges was the flower girl, and ringbearer was Dannie Ulrich of Crete.

Miss Bonnie Howard this morning is announcing the members of her bridal party for her wedding which will take place Friday evening, Oct. 19. Miss Howard will become the bride of A. C. John F. Harrington at a 7 o'clock service to be solemnized at the Fourth Presbyterian Church.

For her matron of honor, the bride-to-be has chosen Mrs. Glen Howard, and Miss Beverly Howard will be her maid of honor. Miss Phyllis Fisher and Miss Patty Howard will be the bridesmaids.

Serving as best man will be Danny Hansen, and the ushers will be Ed Camp, Norman Shaw and Charles Michels.

On Friday evening, Miss Howard was the guest of honor at a pre-nuptial party given by Miss Mercedes Rolene and Miss Beverly Gross at the Rolene home. The evening hours were spent informally, and a pantry shower was presented to the honoree.

The bride-elect was honored at a party last Monday evening when Mrs. Earl Harrison was hostess to 20 guests. The shower was held at the home of Miss Howard's mother, Mrs. Ruby Howard.

Revealing plans this morning for a late autumn wedding is Miss Marlene Marie Fitzwater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Fitzwater, who has announced that her marriage to Keith Troy Smith of Fremont will be an event of Nov. 25.

Miss Fitzwater has named Miss Lora Mae Hunt of Fremont as her maid of honor, and her bridesmaids will be her sister, Miss Jeannette Fitzwater, Miss Twila Becker, Lincoln, and Miss Mary Giddings of Beatrice. Miss Penny Fitzwater, also a sister of the bride-elect, will be the flower girl.

Joseph Carlson of Fremont will serve as best man, and the corps of ushers will include Bill Krummel, David Kenniston and Warren Whittaker, all of Fremont.

Also a November bride-to-be is Miss LaVonne Hulbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orla L. Hulbert, whose marriage to Bobby Millwood of Spartansburg, S. C., will be solemnized on Saturday, Nov. 3. The wedding will take place at Grace Methodist Church.

Attending Miss Hulbert as matron of honor will be Mrs. Donald McKee, and Miss Janice McKee will be the maid of honor. Miss Elsie Sienknecht will be the bridesmaid, and lighting the candles for the 7:30 o'clock ceremony will be Mrs. Donald Shanks and Mrs. Maurice Salmen of Marquette.

Miss Debra Hulbert will be the flower girl, and the ringbearer will be Alan Hulbert.

The bride-elect's brother, Kenneth Hulbert, will serve Mr. Millwood as best man, and seating the guests will be Orland Hulbert, also a brother of the bride-to-be, and Donald McKee.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

The Cotner Terrace residents must have been busy last week polishing, washing, scrubbing, and cleaning if our news this Monday morning is any indication. Several weekend guests and a few parties seem to be cause enough for all this hustle and bustle of activity.

Entertaining two young gentlemen from Scottsbluff this weekend were the Rev. and Mrs. Forrest Morningstar. The house guests were in Lincoln to attend the student council convention held at Northeast High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Johnson and their children, Gregg, Karen, and Stephen, were visiting in Cotner Terrace at the home of Mr. Johnson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Johnson. Of course topping the list of must do's was attendance of the Nebraska football game.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Ralph White entertained the members of her bridge club. The group which includes Mrs. Lester Cardwell, Mrs. Hugh McDewitt, Mrs. Oliver Beach, Mrs. George Hametz, Mrs. Robert Studnicka, Mrs. E. A. Swoboda, Mrs. Arthur Wardlow, Mrs. Waldo Winter, were served dessert and coffee before the bridge game began.

We learned this morning that we will soon be saying goodbyes in Cotner Terrace again. The middle of November Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cardwell and their daughter, Ann, will be leaving Lincoln for their new home in Palo Alto, Calif.

PERSHING HEIGHTS

Pershing Heights residents seem to be telling the same story as their neighbors in Cotner Terrace this morning, so here we go with more news about visitors and parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Tyler entertained the Rev. Charles Gates of Walthill as their house guest last week. Rev. Gates was attending ministerial school at Wesleyan throughout the week.

BSP Chapter Has Meeting

Mrs. Charles Kukin, president, presided at the regular business meeting of Kappa Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, last Wednesday evening at the chapter rooms.

The program, "Introductions and Invitations," was given by Miss Diana McKnight, and during the meeting, announcement was made of the sorority's preferential tea to be held Sunday, Oct. 21, at the home of Mrs. Herbert M. Casey, chapter director.

Miss Charlene Fisher, chapter vice president, introduced the guests of the chapter, Miss Jo-anie Banks, Miss Kay Lorenzen, Miss Mert Thayer, Miss Donna Pierce, Mrs. James Daniels, Mrs. Pierre Peters, Miss Mary Alice Stanley, Miss Nancy McHargue and Miss Sue Wilkins.

NU Dames

The University of Nebraska Dames, an organization for the wives of university students, will meet next Thursday evening in the TV lounge of Sellsick Quad. An initiation ceremony will be held for new members of the group, and a program on fall fashions will be presented.

Popular Visitors

Some exceedingly popular guests in town at the moment are Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers of Campbell, Calif., who arrived from the west coast on Friday to find a full social calendar awaiting them.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers probably used forethought when planning their visit to Lincoln, and chose a game week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Chambers, you see, were both particularly active in campus activities when they sidling near their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Overbeck whose home is also in Pershing Heights.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

What better way to welcome a new community to our Suburbia column than to say "hi" to some of its new residents. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Srb moved into their new home at 6301 Strauss Ct. the last of August. A hearty welcome to the Srbs and the Northeast Heights residents.

Faculties Club To Give Party

The Lincoln Public Schools Faculty Wives Club will entertain at a "Western Whingding" for the members of their families on Monday evening. The party will be held from 5:30 o'clock to 8:30 o'clock at Millard Lefler Junior High School.

General chairman in charge of arrangements is Mrs. Dale Rath.

PEO Chapter Plans Program

The members of Chapter FQ, PEO, will meet at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. John Hoover, 1613 No. 33rd. The program will be given by Miss Lulu L. Runge and will feature a review from the "Story Of PEO", volume II.

Candlelight Service

Miss Lila Mae Keim, daughter of Mrs. Oliver Keim of Hebron, became the bride of Billy Egger, son of Mrs. Angas Egger of Lincoln, at a Sunday evening, Sept. 9, ceremony. Lighted white candles and bouquets of white gladioli decorated the altar of Grace Lutheran Church at Hebron for the 7 o'clock service, which was solemnized by the Rev. G. Meyer, and Mrs. Laverne Krenke of Hebron, organist, played the wedding music.

Entertain Houseguests

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rumbaugh have had as their guests last week members of their family who were in Lincoln to attend the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Rumbaugh's niece, Miss Ruth Rumbaugh, and Wayne Schoepf, which took place Friday evening, Oct. 12, at the First Presbyterian Church.

Included among the guests were Miss Rumbaugh's sister, Miss Jean Rumbaugh of Wheaton, Ill.; her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rumbaugh and children of Wichita, Kan.; her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Verlon Rumbaugh and son of Peru; and Mrs. Alice Jones of Wymore.

Last Thursday evening, Miss Rumbaugh's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Rumbaugh of Frankfort, Kan., were host and hostess to members of the family and bridal party at a pre-nuptial dinner held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rumbaugh.

And preceding the wedding ceremony Friday evening, the members of the family were entertained at a buffet supper at the E. L. Rumbaugh home.

PTA Members Hear Talks

More than 150 attended the 7th grade visiting day at MILLARD LEFLER School Friday morning followed by lunch in the school cafeteria and the monthly meeting of the PTA.

Mrs. Selmer Solheim presided at the meeting during which a panel discussion on the 7th grade guidance program was given by a group of students. Reading certificates were awarded to 7th grade pupils, and a social hour was held with Mrs. Cecil Kirk and Mrs. Howard Miller as hostesses.

PTA committee chairmen for the year will include Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bogott, budget and finance; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cusack, character education; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, library and publications; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stovall, magazine; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bender, membership; Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Flynn, program; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard O'Donnell, publicity; Mr. and Mrs. John Fox, safety and health; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Deibemeyer, secretary; Mr. and Mrs. Kirk and Mr. and Mrs. Miller, social and hospitality.

The first meeting of the fall for the members of TRINITY LUTHERAN PTA was held Friday evening, Oct. 5, when the Rev. F. Worthman spoke to the members on "The Lutheran Elementary School Educates the Whole Child."

Lambert Eitel presided at the meeting, and hostesses were Mrs. Elmer Hellweg, Mrs. Ross Johnson and Mrs. Erwin Schwartzkopf.

Chairmen of the PTA committees were introduced as follows: Mrs. Donley Gerbig, membership; Mrs. Schwartzkopf, hospitality; Mrs. Leroy Christiansen, publicity; Ross Johnson, program; Mrs. Gene Hamilton, finance; Gaylord Wilson, health and civil defense; Mrs. Victor Schmieding, room parents; Mrs. Hellweg, PTA council representative; Mrs. George Filbert, nursery; and Mrs. Lloyd Minzel, publications.

The annual visiting day for parents of 8th and 9th graders will be held at EVERETT SCHOOL on Wednesday and will open with a program by the school orchestra in the school auditorium at 8:45 o'clock in the morning.

Parents are invited to attend classes with their children, and to join them for lunch in the cafeteria.

The monthly meeting of Everett PTA executive board will be held at the school at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Auxiliary Tea Honors Guests

The Theta Xi Auxiliary entertained at tea Friday afternoon at the chapter house honoring the mothers of the chapter's new pledges. Also honored was Mrs. Rosa Mechling, the first president of the auxiliary.

A program was presented by active chapter members, Bill Gingles, pianist, Norm Riggins, vocalist, and Ron Blue, chapter president, who gave a short talk. Tea hostesses were Mrs. F. Barker, Mrs. R. B. Cutler, Mrs. W. E. Jaekle and Mrs. H. C. Spahn.

The auxiliary elected the following new officers: Mrs. Lyle Hans, president; Mrs. R. F. Coffman, vice president; Mrs. J. Vaux Risser, secretary; and Mrs. Chris Welsch, treasurer.

John Wilkinson of Lincoln served Mr. Egger as best man, and seating the guests were Cecil Larson of North Platte, Dick Egger, brother of the bridegroom, Richard Slymm and Robert King, all of Lincoln. Lighting the candles were Wayne Flatman, Chester, and Jerry Schlaman, Hebron.

The bride appeared in a gown of white lace smoothed over satin. Appliques of satin in the scallop motif framed the rounded yoke of illusion, and the molded bodice of lace was completed by long, fitted sleeves. Caught into fullness beneath the slim waist, the lace skirt ended in a train, and her veil of illusion was held to the head by a small lace crown dotted with pearls. She carried a white Bible showered with pink roses and Stephanotis.

Following a reception in the church parlors, the couple left for a west coast wedding trip for which Mrs. Egger wore a blue and white suit with white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Egger will reside at 1710 K in Lincoln where the bridegroom is attending the University of Nebraska.

The Cotner Terrace residents must have been busy last week polishing, washing, scrubbing, and cleaning if our news this Monday morning is any indication. Several weekend guests and a few parties seem to be cause enough for all this hustle bustle of activity.

Entertaining two young gentlemen from Scottsbluff this weekend were the Rev. and Mrs. Forrest Morningstar. The house guests were in Lincoln to attend the student council convention held at Northeast High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Johnson and their children, Gregg, Karen, and Stephen, were visiting in Cotner Terrace at the home of Mr. Johnson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Johnson. Of course topping the list of must do's was attendance of the Nebraska football game.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Ralph White entertained the members of her bridge club. The group which includes Mrs. Lester Cardwell, Mrs. Hugh McDevitt, Mrs. Oliver Beach, Mrs. George Hametz, Mrs. Robert Studnicka, Mrs. E. A. Swoboda, Mrs. Arthur Wardlow, Mrs. Waldo Winter, were served dessert and coffee before the bridge game began.

We learned this morning that we will soon be saying goodbyes in Cotner Terrace again. The middle of November Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cardwell and their daughter, Ann, will be leaving Lincoln for their new home in Palo Alto, Calif.

PERSHING HEIGHTS

Pershing Heights residents seem to be telling the same story as their neighbors in Cotner Terrace this morning, so here we go with more news about visitors and parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Tyler entertained the Rev. Charles Gates of Walthill as their house guest last week. Rev. Gates was attending ministerial school at Wesleyan throughout the week.

BSP Chapter Has Meeting

Mrs. Charles Kukin, president, presided at the regular business meeting of Kappa Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, last Wednesday evening at the chapter rooms.

The program, "Introductions and Invitations," was given by Miss Diana McKnight, and during the meeting, announcement was made of the sorority's preferential tea to be held Sunday, Oct. 21, at the home of Mrs. Herbert M. Casey, chapter director.

Miss Charlene Fisher, chapter vice president, introduced the guests of the chapter, Miss Joanne Banks, Miss Kay Lorenzen, Miss Mert Thayer, Miss Donna Pierce, Mrs. James Daniels, Mrs. Pierre Peters, Miss Mary Alice Stanley, Miss Nancy McHargue and Miss Sue Wilkins.

NU Dames

The University of Nebraska Dames, an organization for the wives of university students, will meet next Thursday evening in the TV lounge of Sells Quad. An initiation ceremony will be held for new members of the group, and a program on fall fashions will be presented.

Popular Visitors

Some exceedingly popular guests in town at the moment are Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers of Campbell, Calif., who arrived from the west coast on Friday to find a full social calendar awaiting them.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers probably used forethought when planning their visit to Lincoln, and chose a game week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Chambers, you see, were both particularly active in campus activities when they sidling near their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Overbeck whose home is also in Pershing Heights.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

What better way to welcome a new community to our Suburbia column than to say "hi" to some of its new residents. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Srb moved into their new home at 6301 Strauss Ct. the last of August. A hearty welcome to the Srbs and the Northeast Heights residents.

were attending the University of Nebraska.

Mrs. Chambers is a former Lincoln resident—Evelyn Brown, Kappa Alpha Theta.

On Friday evening the visitors were honored by Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Rucklos who entertained at dinner—and on Saturday they were among the guests at the pre-game luncheon for which Mr. and Mrs. J. Earle Foster and their daughter, Mrs. George Haecker were host and hostesses when they entertained at the Lincoln County Club honoring Mr. and Mrs. James Good of Wilmette, Ill., and Mrs. Foster Gavin of Evanston.

Faculty Club To Give Party

Beserk Pennsylvania Gunman Kills Mother, Sister; Wounds Father

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A berserk gunman fatally wounded his mother and sister and critically wounded his father near this southwestern Pennsylvania town. He was flushed out of a cave and surrendered meekly Sunday.

State police said Charles Lutsovich, 32, came out of the cave with hands raised. He left behind the .22 caliber rifle which he fired with wild abandon at his family while they were watching television.

Killed instantly was Mrs. Mary Lutsovich, 62. Her 27-year-old daughter, Helen, died in a Pittsburgh hospital Sunday afternoon.

The slayer's father, Stanley Lutsovich, 64, is in critical condition at a Greensburg hospital.

Three Escape

George Lutsovich, a brother of the slayer, said his wife and their 9-year-old son, George Jr., were in the house when the gunfire broke out but they escaped unhurt.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Joseph M. Loughran of Westmoreland County said a murder charge will be filed against Lutsovich.

"He—Lutsovich—made a statement admitting he did the shooting because he had trouble with the family over the fact that he was unemployed. The prisoner was very cooperative and this is a case of premeditated murder," Loughran said.

Lutsovich was lodged in the Westmoreland County Jail.

People Hide

Townpeople in this small mining community about 25 miles southwest of Pittsburgh quickly retreated behind locked doors when police found Lutsovich was not in the house.

A search spread out into the wooded areas around the western Pennsylvania community and it was in the area that police came upon Lutsovich.

State Patrolman Joseph Hostetler, Charles Shoaf, a farmer, and Mike Levine, a reporter, spotted Lutsovich in the cave and called for reinforcements.

Said Levine:

"We were walking along a narrow patch overlooking a cliff and saw him—Lutsovich—hiding in the cave. We came within 10 feet of him but he didn't shoot."

"We ran for cover and immediately sent for help. Shortly afterwards five other troopers arrived and called for Lutsovich to surrender. He finally came out with his hands raised."

Lutsovich was in his stocking feet and was wearing a blue jacket and trousers. A .22 caliber loaded rifle and a box of shells was found in the cave.

State police converged on the Lutsovich home after receiving a call from George. He told police Charles began shooting while the family was watching the Perry Como show on television.

State police fired tear gas into the two-story frame house intermittently for a half-hour before entering only to find Lutsovich had fled into the wooded area.

LHS Senior Named Member Of Junior Red Cross Council

A Lincoln High School senior, Art Hughes of 1902 So. 28th, has been named a new member of the Junior Red Cross Midwestern Area Advisory Council.

Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Wendell Hughes, will attend his first advisory council meeting Oct. 21 in St. Louis, Mo. Ten students from Red Cross chapters in the 16-state area work with national staff members to plan Junior Red Cross activities.

Hughes, who represents Lincoln High on the Junior Red Cross county-wide council, attended the Junior Red Cross Leadership training Center at Lake Geneva, Wis., in August.

He is a member of Lincoln High's Student Council, International Club, the reserve football team, and is an honor roll student. He attended Boys' State in June.

LOW WATER; 100 BARGES BACKED UP

ST. LOUIS — The operations chief for the Army Engineers here reports that some 100 barges were backed up above and below the Alton locks because of low water conditions on the Mississippi River.

Lowell C. Oheim, operations chief for the St. Louis district, said general traffic congestion caused delays of one to 10 hours for barge tows passing through the locks.

Oheim said a spot check earlier this week also revealed some 100 barges backed up above and below the locks.

Rivermen told reporters that under normal conditions it takes a barge 25 minutes to be "locked through" at Alton but now 45 minutes was needed.

Services Held For Episcopal Parish House

... At Holy Trinity

Ground-breaking services were conducted Sunday morning at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, 12th and J, for a $200,000 parish house.

The Rev. William Cross conducted the traditional ceremony at the site of the new building east of the Church.

Those participating in the services included Dr. Clayton Andrews, senior warden; Dr. Fred G. Davie, junior warden; Frederick S. Seacrest, chairman of the building committee; Mrs. James D. Kissell, president of the Women's Council; Miss F. May Marriner, first child baptized in the present church building, and Miss Lulu Abbott, oldest member of the church in continuous service.

Choirs Participate

The junior and senior choirs sang and the children of the Sunday School also participated in the event.

The new parish house will provide classrooms for 450 young people, an auditorium, general meeting and recreation rooms and kitchens.

Architect for the new building is Fritz Craig and construction will be handled by the M. W. Anderson Construction Co.

The present parish house at 1222 J will be torn down after the new structure is completed.

Services Tuesday For Orval Hawk, Retired Teacher

Funeral services for Orval J. Hawk, 56, of 2742 So. 18th, will be 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at Roper & Sons. The Rev. Ernest Stolz will officiate.

Mr. Hawk died Saturday. A retired science teacher, formerly on the staff of Irving Junior High School, he had been a faculty member in the Lincoln schools for 28 years.

UNICEF Drive Planned Here On Halloween

... Meeting Monday

Plans for the 1956 Halloween Drive for UNICEF, international children's fund, will be made at a coffee hour at 10 a.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Arthur Smith, chairman of the drive.

About 30 representatives of church and youth organizations are expected to help plan the campaign in which Lincoln children, working through church and youth groups, collect money for the fund instead of the traditional "tricks 'r' treats."

Some of the groups which will send representatives are the Lincoln Council of Churches, the Council of Church Women, PTA church groups, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, and the City Recreation Association, Mrs. Smith said.

The purpose of the UNICEF Halloween drive is two-fold, Mrs. Smith explained. In addition to collecting funds for the international program, it promotes a more beneficial type of Halloween activity for the children.

$520,000 In 1955

The new type of Halloween program was begun in 1950 and since has spread all over the United States and Canada. Last year more than 6,000 communities participated in the plan and the children collected $520,000.

UNICEF, which stands for United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, is supported by voluntary contributions from governments, foundations and individuals. In every case, Mrs. Smith said, the contributions have been matched $2 for $1 by the recipient country.

The fund works for the elimination of such disease as malaria, and malnutrition among children in 91 countries.

POSTCARD

Postmaster General Arthur Sumnerfield urged everybody to write at least one letter during "Letter Writing Week," beginning tomorrow.

I read this curt dispatch from the AP Washington bureau today. And it has been disturbing me ever since. If my Government wants me to write a letter, I take it seriously.

I think, however, Mr. Sumnerfield owes me a serious explanation. He should have written me a letter:

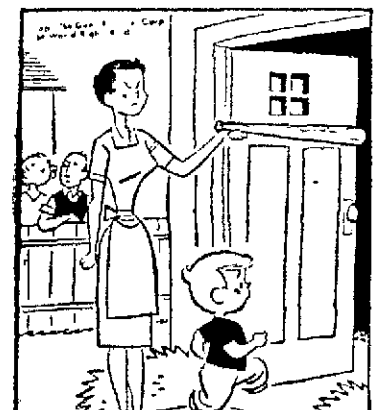

"Dear Sir: We have stockpiled too many three-cent stamps."

Or, "On account a lot of slobes here in the office are laying around doing nothing, we have decided, etc."

Well, Dear General, I hardly know who to write to. Though Hea-

Services Tuesday For Mr. Holman

Funeral services for Nate C. Holman Sr., 70, of 2419 So. 19th, will be 11 a.m. Tuesday at Roper & Sons, with the Rev. Seldon Dickinson officiating. Burial will be in Wyuka.

Mr. Holman died Saturday. He had been a clothing salesman for Magee's from 1913 until 1946. Born in Tobias, he was a longtime Lincoln resident.

Surviving are his wife, Hester; sons, Nate Jr. of Lincoln and Bob of Winston-Salem, N.C.; brother, Dr. William Holman of Santa Ana, Calif.; sisters, Mrs. Guy Davis of Lincoln, Mrs. I. H. Moulton of Cedar Rapids, Ia., Mrs. William Smith of Urbana, Ill., Mrs. Sam Woodward of Illinois, Ill., and Mrs. Phil Proctor of Springfield, Ill. and six grandchildren.

ven knows I owe enough letters. It is a fortunate thing that in the mail today I have Amy Vanderbilt's "Complete Book of Etiquette." It tells so much about how to write a letter that I am ashamed to write one. For example, she tells how to write a thank-you note.

"Dear Jon The melodious little alarm clock was exactly what this household needed. Now Allen won't have to rush to the station morning without his coffee."

Now, General, you and I both know that Allen needed that alarm clock like he needed a stab with a sharp bayonet. An alarm clock is a crime against the public. But this lady had to write a letter thanking the man who sent it.

Allen sounds like a poor type to me, don't you think? All this rushing to the station without coffee shows poor management. He should make his wife drive him to the station. Then he could drink the coffee and put on his tie on the way down. Like most normal people do.

I don't know what neighborhood Miss Vanderbilt lives in. But it is lively. Catch the action on this note.

"Dear Mr. Robbins You will be sorry to hear that our baby was snapped at yesterday by your dog. I am sure it was the baby's fault as the dog is normally a friendly animal, but your children do bring him here unleashed."

This is socially correct, Miss Vanderbilt says. In case the neighbors' dog comes over and eats your baby.

But this kind of letter is seldom written by a lady whose baby has just been chewed on. The way I analyze this, the lady does not play canasta or borrow sugar from the Robbins. Because she says "Dear Mr. Robbins."

The chances are they do not get along with the Robbins. It must be a small community in the suburbs—children visiting each other with unleashed dogs. Allen rushing without coffee to the station. Sounds like about an hour from downtown by commuter train.

Probably one of those places where a couple of executives live. "Something Manor" and everybody with a $30,000 plaster on the split-level, you know?

Well, in a community like this, everything is shaking down. People getting acquainted and so forth. The lady has no great mileage on her and is probably pretty touchy about her baby getting mangled by dogs.

She would therefore first call Allen at the office, demanding that he get home at once and murder Mr. Robbins and the dog. Secondly, she would call in the pediatrician. And third she would call up Mrs. Robbins and give her hell.

Mrs. Robbins would then call HER husband at the office. All

Or Department Store NORFOLK, Va. —A large sign found over a table loaded with dictionaries in a large department store here said "Just right for home, school or office Buy a DICTIONARY."

Dr. Rex H. Knowles, pastor of the Presbyterian - Congregational Student House at the University of Nebraska, delivered the keynote address for the convention.

Introducing the theme, "Student Councils Face the 'Right' Direction," Dr. Knowles told the group of 375 sponsors and delegates from 41 member schools that one must open his eyes and see his responsibility, the needs of others, himself and the spiritual meaning of events.

Donald F. Kline, executive secretary of the Nebraska State Education Association, spoke before the afternoon session. The good student, he pointed out, must have these three things to become a useful member of his school system: a point of view, a sense of direction and know what is right. "Occasionally," he said, "every one should stop and ask God to give him the wisdom to do what is right and the courage to do it."

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) —For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

POSTCARD

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield urged everybody to write at least one letter during "Letter Writing Week," beginning tomorrow.

I read this curt dispatch from the AP Washington bureau the other day. And it has been disturbing me ever since.

If my Government wants me to write a letter, I take it seriously.

I think, however, Mr. Summerfield owes me a serious explanation. He should have written me a letter:

"Dear Sir: We have stockpiled too many three-cent stamps."

Or, "On account a lot of slobes here in the office are laying around doing nothing, we have decided, etc."

Well, Dear General, I hardly know who to write to, Though Hea-

A big week is ahead for local prep football teams.

All four schools will be playing at home or we should say on Capitol City soil.

Last week Pius X and Lincoln High were victorious in tests with Omaha Holy Name and Scottsbluff, respectively, to make the local prep record read 2-2 when Southeast and Northeast each lost.

The Pius team—named The Thunderbolts by the student body to indicate a meaning of lightning quickness and power—struck for a quick touchdown in the first quarter and then held on to defeat Holy Name, 7-0.

The Thunderbolts will host Columbus St. Bonaventure this Friday at Pius X.

Each school will be trying to "get off the hook" after five straight setbacks.

Southeast dropped a 13-6 decision to Seward last week while Hastings was blanked Northeast, 25-0.

The two schools have faced almost even against common foes this season. Southeast lost to Hastings by an identical 25-0 margin; to Fremont 21-0 and to Beatrice, 37-0 while Northeast fell before Fremont, 34-7, and Beatrice, 27-13.

For the Vikings from the Gate City jumped into the Star's top spot in the Class A state ratings this week by virtue of their 19-13 over Creighton Prep and will probably furnish the stiffest competition of the season for the Links.

A year ago, the Links made a brilliant comeback after being down 25-7 in the second half and clipped the Vikings, 28-25.

But the closer game of the week may be the intra-city Mid-East conference clash when Northeast hosts Southeast at the Oval Friday night.

The game will be the first gridiron battle in the history of the two schools and should develop into a top-notch rivalry.

TITLE-BOUND NORTH FIRST IN PREP GRID STANDINGS

Big Seven Picture Clearing; Huskers In Underdog Role

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

The chips are starting to fall into place.

That's the word after Big Seven teams completed work last Saturday.

Several things became quite clear last week:

1. Nebraska lacks enough experienced backs to rate as strong as first thought.

2. Kansas, Colorado and Missouri are the teams with the best shot at the Orange Bowl.

3. Oklahoma's 1958 battle plan is to shut out every opponent and score a lot of points. Since the Sooners must play teams that have all been whipped several times, they'll stake their claim to another national championship on goose-egging the opposition.

The first point comes as no surprise, even though the 10-7 loss to Kansas State comes under the general classification of an upset.

Nebraska simply is short on tested backs and the Huskers' attack feels the pinch. Saturday's loss to Kansas State just served to emphasize this.

The Huskers have no skilled quarterback so necessary for the operation of the Split T. The loss of Don Erway has been a big blow, dropping the heavy load of responsibility on George Harshman, who

Inexperience is also the key at halfback. Willie Greenlaw hasn't been able to come close to his previous form because of an injured ankle. Bill Hawkins was a tackle last year. Larry Naviaux is a sophomore. Jerry Brown was a guard last year. Dick McCashland is a sophomore.

All have turned in fine showings at one time or another, but their inexperience has resulted in inconsistency. The Huskers also are hurting for a speedy, break-away runner to make their outside game work.

Because there's a lack of backfield speed, they've had to concentrate on moving through the middle of the line and they haven't been able to loosen up the opposition.

The loss to Kansas State puts Nebraska in the role of a spoiler for the rest of the campaign. It's likely the Huskers will be underdogs in each of their remaining games—Kansas, Colorado, Missouri and Oklahoma in the Big Seven; Indiana and Baylor in non-loop action.

They'll be in the psychological position to spring a lot of upsets and the squad is counting on doing just that.

the year, at Memorial Stadium. The Hoosiers were mauled, 53-6, by Michigan State, but will present a formidable challenge for the Cornhuskers.

Missouri, the pre-season choice for the Orange Bowl berth, moves into conference competition after four non-loop affairs, three of them toughies. The Tigers, sparked by Quarterback Jimmy Hunter, open at Kansas State, field-goal victors over the Cornhuskers. Missouri got on the win trail by walloping North Dakota State, 42-0.

Kansas, which toppled Iowa State (beaten 9-7 by Nebraska), 25-11, gets the toughest assignment of the week, hosting the impregnable Oklahoma Sooners who roasted Texas, 45-0.

League-leading Colorado, with two straight wins, stands a good chance of making it three this week when the Buffs visit Iowa State.

Anyway you look at it, the race for the Orange Bowl job looks like a wild one. Five teams are still in the running and a repeat of the 1954 season isn't unlikely.

That's when Nebraska went to Miami with a 4-2 conference record. Kansas State beat the Huskers that year, too. The odds are against Nebraska this fall, but the Big Seven is the "Anything Can Happen—And Usually Does" football league.

Vikings Into Stretch With Clean Slate

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

That noise you hear in Omaha today comes from the North High School football camp.

There is much breast-beating in Viking land—and with good cause. Last Friday night Coach Carol Gast's Norsemen ended Creighton Prep's long stranglehold on the state football leadership with a 19-13 victory.

North now stands at the top of the list. It's the first time since the end of the 1954 season that any other team but Prep occupied first place. Prep was undefeated in 32 straight games.

Prep is still second. It's doubtful that North will have a tougher battle all year than the Prep game.

Next stop for the Vikings is Lincoln High Thursday. North hasn't beaten a Lincoln team since 1950 but appears capable of doing the job this year.

At the halfway point of the season, the race now looks like this:

1—Omaha North, with a raft of capable backs operating behind a veteran line, appears ready to end a long championship drought. North came close in 1950 and 1952, and has been a power for several years. Remaining foes are Lincoln, Scottsbluff, Tech and South.

3—Omaha South is clicking in Cletus Fischer's second year as head coach. The big game for the Packers is Omaha North. Since losing their opener to Prep 26-13 the Packers have won four games in handy fashion and have been scored on only once since the opener.

4—Fremont bolstered its fourth-place ranking by beating a fair Omaha Westside team 32-12 last week. The seasoned Tigers look like the best in the Big Ten, but must prove it against Grand Island and Hastings in upcoming games.

5—Omaha Central came up a notch from sixth by virtue of a 20-7 rapping of Tech last week. The Eagles beat Lincoln by one point in their opener, got a 49-19 spanking at the hands of North, lost by two touchdowns to a good South team and own wins over Tech and Abraham Lincoln of Council Bluffs.

6—Omaha Tech is skidding after two opening wins. Tech was third even after its first loss, 15-13 to Prep, but since has fallen to South (33-0) and Central (20-7) in order. The Trojans have yet to play two rated teams, North and Lincoln.

7—Grand Island is pointing for games with Hastings and Fremont, especially the latter, in a bid to climb. The Islanders are unbeaten but haven't shown their old power. They had close calls with Westside (20-19) and Lincoln (13-6).

8—Hastings is unbeaten but has decidedly weak schedule. Victories have been over Northeast (0-5), Southeast (0-5), Columbus (0-5), Fairbury (2-1) and North Platte (1-4). Hastings must prove itself against Grand Island and Fremont.

9—Lincoln High has fallen on hard times. Three losses already insure the Links of their worst year since 1949 but they may be moving. The tough road ahead includes North, Tech and South. Wins in any of these will boost the Links.

10—Kearney had broken a long dry spell and has four wins without a loss in 1958. The latest success was a 14-7 defeat of another improved team, Lexington. Scottsbluff is a big hurdle for the Bearcats—a loss in that one would drop them from the chart.

Omaha Westside appears to have the best chance to crack the Top Ten.

Big Seven Picture Clearing; Huskers In Underdog Role

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

The chips are starting to fall into place.

That's the word after Big Seven teams completed work last Saturday.

Several things became quite clear last week:

1. Nebraska lacks enough experienced backs to rate as strong as first thought.
2. Kansas, Colorado and Missouri are the teams with the best shot at the Orange Bowl.
3. Oklahoma's 1956 battle plan is to shut out every opponent and score a lot of points. Since the Sooners may play teams that have all been whipped several times, they'll stake their claim to another national championship on goose-egging the opposition.

The first point comes as no surprise, even though the 10-7 loss to Kansas State comes under the general classification of an upset.

Nebraska simply is short on tested backs and the Huskers' attack feels the pinch. Saturday's loss to Kansas State just served to emphasize this.

The Huskers have no skilled quarterback so necessary for the operation of the Split T. The loss of Don Erway has been a big blow, draping the heavy load of responsibility on George Harshman, who saw little action last fall, and Roy Stinnett, a sophomore.

Inexperience is also the key at halfback. Willie Greenlaw hasn't been able to come close to his previous form because of an injured ankle. Bill Hawkins was a tackle last year. Larry Naviaux is a sophomore. Jerry Brown was a guard last year. Dick McCashland is a sophomore.

All have turned in fine showings at one time or another, but their inexperience has resulted in inconsistency. The Huskers also are hurting for a speedy, break-away runner to make their outside game work.

Because there's a lack of backfield speed, they've had to concentrate on moving through the middle of the line and they haven't been able to loosen up the opposition.

The loss to Kansas State puts Nebraska in the role of a spoiler for the rest of the campaign. It's likely the Huskers will be underdogs in each of their remaining games—Kansas, Colorado, Missouri and Oklahoma in the Big Seven; Indiana and Baylor in non-loop action.

They'll be in the psychological position to spring a lot of upsets and the squad is counting on doing just that.

This week Nebraska tackles Indiana, the second Big Ten foe of the year, at Memorial Stadium. The Hoosiers were mauled, 53-6, by Michigan State, but will present a formidable challenge for the Cornhuskers.

Missouri, the pre-season choice for the Orange Bowl berth, moves into conference competition after four non-loop affairs, three of them toughies. The Tigers, sparked by Quarterback Jimmy Hunter, open at Kansas State, field-goal victors over the Cornhuskers. Missouri got on the win trail by wallopping North Dakota State, 42-0.

Kansas, which toppled Iowa State (beaten 9-7 by Nebraska), 25-14, gets the toughest assignment of the week, hosting the impregnable Oklahoma Sooners who roasted Texas, 45-0.

League-leading Colorado, with two straight wins, stands a good chance of making it three this week when the Buffs visit Iowa State.

Anyway you look at it, the race for the Orange Bowl job looks like a wild one. Five teams are still in the running and a repeat of the 1954 season isn't unlikely.

That's when Nebraska went to Miami with a 4-2 conference record. Kansas State beat the Huskers that year, too. The odds are against Nebraska this fall, but the Big Seven is the "Anything Can Happen—and Usually Does" football league.

Vikings Into Stretch With Clean Slate

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

That noise you hear in Omaha today comes from the North High School football camp.

There is much breast-beating in Viking land—and with good cause. Last Friday night Coach Carol Gast's Norsemen ended Creighton Prep's long stranglehold on the state football leadership with a 19-13 victory.

North now stands at the top of the list. It's the first time since the end of the 1954 season that any other team but Prep occupied first place. Prep was undefeated in 32 straight games.

Prep is still second. It's doubtful that North will have a tougher battle all year than the Prep game.

Next stop for the Vikings is Lincoln High Thursday. North hasn't beaten a Lincoln team since 1950 but appears capable of doing the job this year.

North's jump past Prep was one of only four changes in the ratings.

Omaha Central climbed from sixth to fifth, trading places with Tech after beating the latter club 20-7.

Grand Island stepped up from eighth to seventh in a switch with Hastings. The Islanders have equalled Hastings' won-lost record (5-0) in stiffer competition.

Lincoln went from tenth to ninth by dint of a 26-0 romp over Scottsbluff. Kearney, the team the Links displaced, plays Scottsbluff next week.

At the halfway point of the season, the race now looks like this:

1—Omaha North, with a raft of capable backs operating behind a veteran line, appears ready to end a long championship drought. North came close in 1950 and 1952, and has been a power for several years. Remaining foes are Lincoln, Scottsbluff, Tech and South.

2—Creighton Prep is a strong second, but a slip now would hurt. The Junior Jays' remaining schedule is weak.

3—Omaha South is clicking in Cletus Fischer's second year as head coach. The big game for the Packers is Omaha North. Since losing their opener to Prep 26-13 the Packers have won four games in handy fashion and have been scored on only once since the opener.

4—Fremont bolstered its fourth-place ranking by beating a fair Omaha Westside team 32-12 last week. The seasoned Tigers look like the best in the Big Ten, but must prove it against Grand Island and Hastings in upcoming games.

5—Omaha Central came up a notch from sixth by virtue of a 20-7 rapping of Tech last week. The Eagles beat Lincoln by one point in their opener, got a 46-19 spanking at the hands of North, lost by two touchdowns to a good South team and own wins over Tech and Abraham Lincoln of Council Bluffs.

6—Omaha Tech is skidding after two opening wins. Tech was third even after its first loss, 15-13 to Prep, but since has fallen to South (23-0) and Central (20-7) in order. The Trojans have yet to play two rated teams, North and Lincoln.

7—Grand Island is pointing for games with Hastings and Fremont, especially the latter, in a bid to climb. The Islanders are unbeaten but haven't shown their old power. They had close calls with Westside (20-19) and Lincoln (13-6).

8—Hastings is unbeaten but has decidedly weak schedule. Victories have been over Northeast (0-5), Southeast (0-5), Columbus (0-5), Fairbury (2-1) and North Platte (1-4). Hastings must prove itself against Grand Island and Fremont.

9—Lincoln High has fallen on hard times. Three losses already insure the Links of their worst year since 1949 but they may be moving. The tough road ahead includes North, Tech and South. Wins in any of these will boost the Links.

10—Kearney had broken a long dry spell and has four wins without a loss in 1956. The latest success was a 14-7 defeat of another improved team, Lexington. Scottsbluff is a big hurdle for the Bearcats—a loss in that one would drop them from the chart.

Omaha Westside appears to have the best chance to crack the Top Ten.

After Terry's last year as Giants' manager in 1941, he stayed on one year as farm operator. He helped coach the Reds one spring and just missed buying the Pittsburgh Pirates with a syndicate before being offered the Dodgers' managerial post.

Terry announced his resignation during the summer as president of the Sally League to take effect at the end of the 1956 season, ostensibly to devote time to his big automobile agency in Jacksonville, Fla.

Hastings cleared a big hurdle Friday night, beating Nebraska Wesleyan 37-14. Last year a tie with the Plainsmen jolted Hastings championship hopes.

Hastings won with a three-touchdown burst in the fourth quarter.

Kearney won the NCC title last year despite a 21-7 loss to Hastings. Both teams accepted post-season bowl bids.

Star Sports Staff Writer

A big week is ahead for local prep football teams.

All four schools will be playing at home—or we should say on Capitol City soil.

Last week Plus X and Lincoln High were victorious in tests with Omaha Holy Name and Scottsbluff, respectively, to make the local prep record read 2-2 when Southeast and Northeast each lost.

The Plus team—named The Thunderbolts by the student body to indicate a meaning of lightning quickness and power—struck for a quick touchdown in the first quarter and then held on to defeat Holy Name, 7-0.

The Thunderbolts will host Columbus St. Bonaventure this Friday night. The Bonnies tied Lincoln Cathedral (now Plus) last season by a 7-7 count so the Thunderbolts will be out to gain a victory.

Lincoln High, which swept to a 26-0 victory over Scottsbluff last week, may wish it had an extra day to prepare for its battle with Omaha North when it gets this week's action started at the Lincoln High Oval Thursday night.

For the Vikings from the Gate City jumped into the Star's top spot in the Class A state ratings this week by virtue of their 19-13 over Creighton Prep and will probably furnish the stiffest competition of the season for the Links.

A year ago, the Links made a brilliant comeback after being down 25-7 in the second half and clipped the Vikings, 28-25.

But the closer game of the week may be the intra-city Mid-East conference clash when Northeast hosts Southeast at the Oval Friday night.

The game will be the first gridiron battle in the history of the two schools and should develop into a top-notch rivalry.

250 Watch Final Saddle Club Show

The Lincoln Saddle Horse Club held its final family show of the season Sunday at the club's grounds north of Pioneer's Park. The attendance was estimated at 250. Winners:

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

What a relief!

All my equipment necessary for the coverage of the 1956 Olympic Games has arrived.

I can now tell the missus to pack the old cardboard suitcase.

For a while I've been afraid I wouldn't get to make the trip to Melbourne, Australia where the Games are slated to be held.

But the Victoria Promotion Committee has given me new hope.

One of the more informative items is the Guide for Visitors.

I can pass on that "three facts are immediately obvious about Australia. . . its great size, its youth, and its potential."

Or you might be interested in knowing that "Australia's population is just over nine millions."

... "the wool industry remains the backbone of the Australian economy." ... "the Commonwealth of Australia is independent and democratic" (a good deal anywhere). . . "national sporting heroes are held in very high esteem, and the names of many, long past their prime, still live in the hearts of the people" (which is as good a place as any to live when you're past your prime). . . "Australian weather is temperate, on the whole."

I'm looking forward to seeing the native wild life (and I'm referring to animals), which includes kangaroos, koala bears, dingoes, wallabies and duck-billed platypus.

And for kicks there are the Aborigines, with their boomerangs, nulla nullas (club) and spears.

My guide book also informs me that the Melbourne Police Station is located at the corner of Latrobe and Russell Streets and that Captain Cook's Cottage is in Fitzroy Gardens.

Of hell - clicking importance (Page 45) is the notice that "liquor is served in hotel bars and lounges" and that "the local beer is of good quality, but is stronger than most overseas beers."

So much for the guidebook. But my hosts have also sent a program of athletic events, complete with the statement on the backside that Melbourne is "the second city of Australia, fifth in the British Commonwealth. . . a modern, well-planned city, its wealth (not common, this time) per head the highest in Australia (and heads aren't cheap anywhere these days). . . a city of friendly, hospitable people with a cordial welcome for its visitors."

In addition, there's the City of Melbourne's edition of Where to Go, What to Wear, Who It's Safe to Go With and How Much It Will Cost (another Guidebook)—a beautiful map of Melbourne and suburbs, a booklet on the Olympic Village and the history of the Games and last,

Bears Chase Prey

Coming in for the tackle are Center Wayne Hansen (51), Tackle M. L. Brackett (63) and Back J. D. Smith. McElhenny chalked up an eight-yard gain on the play, but the Bears won, 31-7. (AP Wirephoto.)

Notre Dame Spirits Sinking

By WILL GRIMSLEY
The Associated Press

Spirits were low today among the far-flung alumni, genuine and self-appointed, of Notre Dame; it looks as if things must go from bad to worse for Coach Terry Brennan's young football team.

Now beaten twice in three games, the Fighting Irish face consecutive licks from Michigan State, whom they play Saturday, and Oklahoma, their guest at South Bend the week following.

Oklahoma and Michigan State are the Nos. 1 and 2 teams in the country at the moment and, judging by the way they handled their opposition last Saturday, promise nothing but more grief for the reeling Irish.

This may develop into Notre Dame's most disastrous football campaign since 1933 when they won only three games, lost five and tied one. The Irish had a 4-4-1 mark in 1950.

Nobody Believed Warning

Young Brennan had tried to warn his well-wishers that his squad was young and his schedule heavy, but nobody believed it. It was a case of crying "wolf" too often and Notre Dame was picked third in the Associated Press preseason poll, behind Oklahoma and Michigan State.

Purdue, an old nemesis, stunned the Irish Saturday at South Bend, winning 28-14 on the slashing running of fullback Mel Dillard and of quarterback Len Dawson. It was the third time since 1950 that Purdue had rocked Notre Dame, which lost its opening game this year to Southern Methodist.

The Irish had company in their miseries Saturday because two other teams who usually mingle with the gridiron giants, Army and Navy, suffered surprising beatings.

Michigan, jarring the Cadets into fumbling ineffectually, handed Army one of its worst beatings ever, 48-14. Tulane, sparked by a gifted young quarterback named Gene Newton, toppled Navy at New Orleans, 21-6.

The element of surprise continues a big one in the "new look" one-planet kind of football the college boys are playing today.

As an example, Harvard, beaten a week ago by Tufts, bounced back to beat Cornell, not in a close game but in a rout, 32-7. Minnesota, which was beginning to harbor Rose Bowl ideas, was held to a scoreless tie by Northwestern. And Texas A & M rated one of the two top powers of the southwest, was battered even, 14-14, by Houston.

The latter tie, affecting the ninth-ranked Texas Aggies, was the only discourtesy shown members of the elite "Top Ten." The others, except idle Southern California, won without too harrowing an experience.

Oklahoma, with Clendon Thomas and Tommy McDonald running rampant, crushed Texas 45-0. The Sooners' 33rd straight football victory. Michigan State let eight different men do the scoring in smashing Indiana, 53-6.

Georgia Tech, No. 3, rolled over Louisiana State 39-7, with sub-quarterback Toppo Vann passing for two touchdowns and running to a third, Texas Christian, No. 4, smashed Alabama 23-0, not with the running of Jim Swink but that of Ken Wineberg, who had scoring thrusts of 46 and 41 yards. Ohio State won its 14th straight Big Ten Conference game by beating Illinois, 26-6.

The Dixie contenders for national honors kept their bids flying. Tennessee, No. 6, whipped Chattanooga 42-20. Mississippi, No. 7, beat a strong Vanderbilt eleven 16-0, with nine of the points coming on three field goals by Paige Cothren. Baylor, despite 11 fumbles, downed Arkansas 14-7.

Syracuse emerged as a candidate for Eastern honors by beating West Virginia in a rock-sock game at Syracuse 27-20 with the main impetus provided by brilliant halfback Jim Brown. Penn State, another Eastern independent, racked up Holy Cross with unbelievable ease, 43-0. Princeton ended Pennsylvania's one-game winning streak, 34-0, and became a prime Ivy League title threat along with Yale, 33-19 victor over Columbia.

American League Dominates 1956 All-Star Team

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The American League dominated the Sporting News 1956 Major League All-Star Baseball Team, landing seven of 11 places.

The past three years it was a National League story as each time they put seven men on the mythical team, to the junior circuit's four.

The 1956 team:

Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati, first base; Nellie Fox, Chicago White Sox, second base; Harvey Kuenn, Detroit, shortstop; Ken Boyer, St. Louis, third base; Ted Williams, Boston; Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees, and Hank Aaron, Milwaukee, outfielders; Billy Pierce, Chicago White Sox; Whitey Ford, New York Yankees and Don Newcombe, Brooklyn pitchers, and Yogi Berra, New York Yankees, catcher.

Selection of Williams set a new record, breaking a 10-time tie with Stan Musial of the Cardinals.

Other holdovers from the 1955 team are Kluszewski, Fox, Newcombe and Ford. Newcomers are Boyer, Kuenn, Aaron and Pierce.

The baseball weekly polled 211 members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. to select the team.

Giambra Meets Gil Turner Friday

The Associated Press

Handsome Joey Giambra, back in the middleweight ratings with a No. 10 spot and eager to climb higher, goes after his fifth straight victory Friday night when he meets rapid-firing Gil Turner at Madison Square Garden.

The 25-year-old Giambra has beaten Al Andrews, John L. Sullivan twice, and Rocky Castellani since settling down after his Army discharge. Before he went into service, he was high up in the rankings and headed for a title shot. The rangy Buffalo, N. Y., 157-pounder has a 44-1 record.

Turning to Get Back

Turner, loser of three in a row to Gene Fullmer, Johnny Saxton and Yama Bahama, is itching to get back in the win column. The aggressive, 26-year-old Philadelphia has a 50-13 record.

The New York 160-pounder will be broadcast and telecast, NBC TV, radio, 8 p.m., CST, coast to coast.

TOBIN ROTE PEPS PACKERS TO 1ST WIN OF YEAR

By CHUCK CAPALDO

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, with veteran quarterback Tobin Rote plunging for two touchdowns and punting for two more, shaded the Baltimore Colts 38-33 Sunday to crack the National Football League victory barrier for the first time this season.

Bobby Dillon scored what proved to be the winning touchdown in the third quarter as he intercepted a pass from George Shaw and raced 42 yards to the end zone.

A Milwaukee County Stadium crowd of 24,214, sitting in a steady drizzle through most of the second half, saw Carl Taseff reel off the game's longest run, a 90-yard punt return which gave the Colts a short-lived 26-24 edge in the third quarter.

The 22-year-old Rote, who had been slow getting started this season, got the Packers off and running with a 1-yard plunge with 1:50 gone in the first quarter after Fred Cone recovered his own kickoff on the Colts' 10. Safety-men Billy Vessels and Lenny Moore pulled an Alphonse-Gaston act on the initial kickoff, the ball bouncing free as each thought the other would take it.

Rote, now in his seventh season in the NFL, passed to Gary Knefele for two touchdowns on plays covering 32 and 9 yards and Cone kicked a 16-yard field goal and 5 conversions.

Moore, the rookie standout from Penn State, led the Colts with two TD runs of 9 and 10 yards and passed 3 yards to L. G. Duple for a third. Jesse Thomas capped the Colts' scoring in the last quarter by scooping up a fumble by Howie Ferguson and racing 25 yards to score.

Matson Returns Kickoff 105 Yards To Pace Cards

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Halfback Ollie Matson sprinted 105 yards on a kickoff return that broke a Griffith Stadium record Sunday and enhanced the Chicago Cardinals' crashing 31-3 victory over the winless Washington Redskins.

Matson's spectacular run overshadowed another dazzling dash, Frankie Bernardi's 95-yard return of a punt in the first period. If shot the undefeated Cards into a lead they proceeded to widen with

BEARS GRIND OUT 31-7 WIN

CHICAGO (AP) — A crushing ground attack featuring Bobby Perry, Rick Casares and rookie Jerry Jeter powered the Chicago Bears to a 31-7 National Football League victory over the San Francisco 49ers before a capacity crowd of 49,714.

The Bears cashed in on two breaks, an intercepted pass and a fumble, in the first half for a 14-0 lead and added two more touchdowns and a field goal in the second half to complete the rout.

San Francisco scored a touchdown in the third quarter, but the Bears' defense held them to a 3-0 final score.

Eagles Tip Steelers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bobby Thomson's first-half aerial attack offset one by Ted Marchibroda in the second to salvage a 35-21 victory for the Philadelphia Eagles over the Pittsburgh Steelers Sunday in a National Football League game.

The Eagles rode to a 20-0 lead at halftime on two touchdowns passes by Thomson, a 20-yard pass interception by Eddie Bell and Don Schaefer's 1-yard plunge and scored in the final 45 seconds on a 51-yard sprint by Ken Keller.

Club Has Picturesque International Flavor

An organization which many times conducts official business in seven languages, on occasion all at the same time, does not appear to have much chance of survival—according to every known statute of parliamentary procedure.

The Cosmopolitan Club at the University of Nebraska, however, is a picturesque protest to the commonly accepted precepts handed down by Robert's Rules of Order.

Not only does this organization often break into one of its seven most popular tongues, but it can, in a pinch, turn to any one of 45 different countries represented in its membership rolls for a new language or accent to continue the business of a regular meeting.

Seldom, however, save for the heat of debate or a parliamentary ruse, do the Cosmopolitan Club members stray from the one language which they all have in common—English.

Officers From Afar

Newly elected officers of the organization represent well its international flavor:

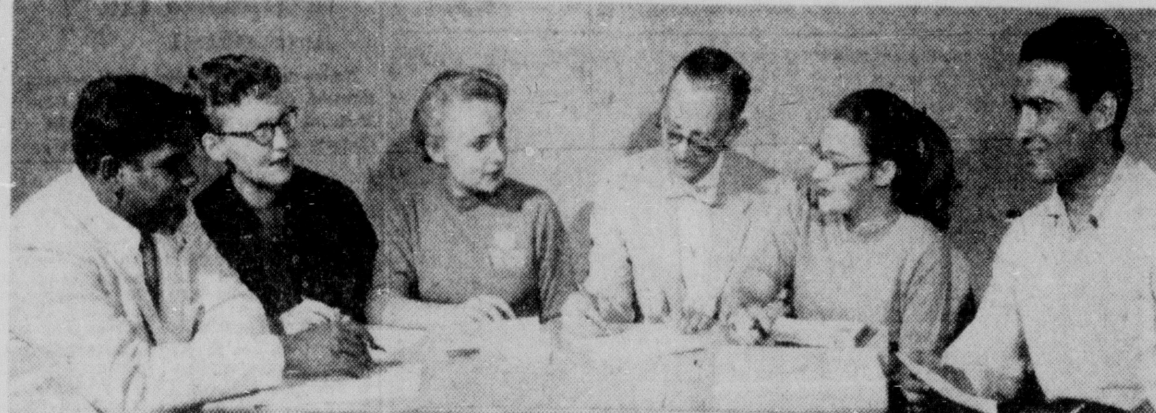

The president is Valida Jansons, a senior majoring in business administration, who has become an American citizen after coming to the United States from Latvia nearly six years ago.

Amir Maghan, vice president, is a junior from Iran majoring in business administration.

Gail Harms, from DeWitt, Neb., is the recording secretary. Sidney Jackson, a sophomore in pre-med from Jamaica, British West Indies, was elected treasurer. Paulus Kersten, named as the Student Council representative, is a junior in engineering from Holland. A senior student in speech pathology, Karon Peterson of Lincoln is the corresponding secretary.

Work, Play Together

One of the few links between foreign and American students at the University, Miss Jansons said that "it is the club's belief that the foreign students can become acquainted more easily, learn to speak our language more fluently and can learn more about the American way of living more readily when they work and play in active participation with American students."

Monthly parties introduce the students from other lands to dancing and card-playing and to the special American days such as Halloween, Christmas, New Year's, Thanksgiving and Easter Sunday.

Celebrating its tenth year on the University campus, the Cosmopolitan Club is undertaking its three big annual projects again this year. The first is the International Smorgasbord, a complete dinner of foreign delicacies, to be held Nov. 4 at the Student Union from 5 to 7 p.m.

Another special project is the Christmas card sale, the proceeds of which go to the organization and the Lancaster County Society for Crippled Children. The cards depict familiar campus scenes.

The third annual affair is the International Dance and Floor Show in March. This year's production will be patterned after a Chinese garden party, and will feature a floor show by the foreign students of folk dancing, singing and special music and entertainment.

Dr. Lucile Cyprean, supervisor of the speech and hearing laboratories, is the faculty sponsor of the organization.

2 Omahans Drop Liquor Appeals

OMAHA (AP)—Two men convicted of selling liquor without a license dropped their appeals.

District Judge James M. Patton remanded the cases to the lower court for execution of the sentences.

Louis Marino, 39, and Mickey Ruggiere, 22, partners in the Omaha Dance Club, had been fined $350 each in Central Criminal Court.

Ruggiere, who failed to pay the fine, was placed in County Jail.

LEE'S MOVE LIVENS UP UTAH VOTE

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—What happens to the political situation in Utah, now that Gov. J. Bracken Lee has dealt himself back into the race for his office?

Several things were happening today—all indicating that a previously lackluster gubernatorial campaign has perked up to the point where it might eclipse the national presidential race in local interest.

Lee, a Republican who lost to George D. Clyde in last month's GOP primary, said he is back in the race as an independent. His action makes it a three-way contest, with Democrat L. C. Romney in the third corner.

Here's what happened Sunday, in the wake of Lee's move:

1. Republican state chiefs held private councils of war and asserted the party will remain solidly behind Clyde.

2. Democrats, who at first saw Lee's move as a break for them, began to have doubts. They now fear it might revitalize a Republican organization they previously had seen as complacent.

3. Citizens for Lee, the group that started it all by placing Lee's name on the ballot—via a little-known Utah law—began organizing for the campaign.

4. Lee appointed Jennings Phillips, a Salt Lake City public relations man as his campaign director.

What chance does Lee have to win an unprecedented third term? Most observers Sunday saw it as a close race, awaiting public reaction to crystallize.

New Demo Candidate Morrison Moves Into State Campaign

Attorney Asks Equalization Of Tax Load

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

Candidate Frank Morrison, Lincoln attorney and Democratic party choice for the office of lieutenant governor, headed Sunday into the heat of the campaign.

The former McCook resident scheduled his filing on Monday for the vacancy left by the death of Stanley D. Long of Grand Island Oct. 6 in Omaha.

Morrison was picked to fill Long's vacancy last Saturday by the Democratic Central Committee. The choice by the committee was unanimous.

Strong Campaigner

Considered a strong campaigner, Morrison immediately hit out for equalizing the state's tax base by taking the load off property taxes and shifting it to other tax means.

He labeled Gov. Victor Anderson's "businessman's government" a fraud on the people of Nebraska, noting that state expenditures rather than being lower have risen to new highs.

He called for renewed vigor in inducing industry to Nebraska that will make use of raw farm materials to provide new markets for farm produce.

Morrison said following his being named by the Central Committee he was "happy" to work with Frank Sorrell of Syracuse, Democratic candidate for governor.

Campaign Manager

Morrison previously has been named Sorrell's campaign manager and will continue in that status, the two working together as a team.

Willard Townsend, chairman of the State Central Committee, praised the naming of Morrison to fill the lieutenant governor's post.

Townsend said a seasoned campaigner "like Morrison can add to the tempo" of the Democratic race for control of the state offices.

He said Morrison will enlist the aid of many former backers in adding to his fight for the office of lieutenant governor.

Morrison's opponent for the office is Dwight Burney of Hartington.

South Platte Fans To Attend Game Here Saturday

Members of the South Platte United Chambers of Commerce will travel to Lincoln Saturday by special train to attend the Nebraska-Indiana football game.

The Sowers and Wholesalers Committee of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce will greet the South Platte group and take them to a local restaurant by special buses for a luncheon.

Representatives will include persons from McCook, Indianola, Cambridge, Holbrook, Arapahoe, Oxford, Holdrege, Axtell, Minden, Kenesaw, Juniata, Hastings, Harvard and other towns in the southern and southwestern parts of Nebraska.

Roy Lenwell of McCook is president of the organization, Tom Waldo of Orleans is vice president and Cleus Nelson of Holdrege is secretary.

Tropical Storm In Cuba Observed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Weathermen are watching a disturbance in the central Cuba area for further indications of a small tropical storm. The disturbance was noted as northeast winds failed Florida's coast Sunday. Storm warnings for strong to gale winds were hoisted from Palm Beach south to Alligator Reef in the Florida Keys.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Miami said the wind velocity was 25 to 40 miles an hour with gusts to 55 miles an hour. Seas were "very rough."

16 Munch On Lunch All Day; Test NU Food By Tasting

Contrary to the old maxim—variety is not always spicy, as 16 University of Nebraska taste-testers will testify.

The NU dietitians spent two days tasting four or five examples of 40 different food items to help them decide which canned goods would be purchased to supply all the University's food needs this year.

Cold, unseasoned vegetables can be rather dull early in the morning—or any other time, for that matter—but that's the only way taste-testers can be certain of the true flavor. You try plain corn, peas, beans, etc., without benefit of salt, pepper, butter and heat and you may know which is the best kind, but you also appreciate what will make even the best better.

Unlabeled Each brand tested was in an unlabeled can identified by a code number known to the University buyers. The tasters marked off sections on a paper plate for each brand of a certain item and then started tasting and testing.

In the opinion of Mrs. Anna Dunn, dietitian of Sellsack Quadrangle, all foods start tasting alike after about an hour of this business.

6 Break-Ins Reported In Gage County

Lincoln Star Special BEATRICE, Neb.—Gage County Sheriff Ned Maxwell and Deputies Henry Hawes and Fred Steinkamp got little rest Sunday. There were a total of six break-ins in the county to be investigated.

The sheriff's office reported that the Seagle and Chapin Lumber Co. and the Bahr Grain Company elevator were broken into at Barnesville sometime after closing Saturday night.

The raiders took a safe from the lumber company to a country road where they apparently battered it open but found nothing of value and abandoned it. Offices at both places were ransacked but the intruders found no money.

Same Intruders

What was believed to be the work of the same intruders was evident in four Beatrice business places according to the sheriff. Places entered included the Rikli-Coulter Implement Company and the O.K. Rubber Welders Company offices, both on U.S. 77 at the north edge of town. First check showed nothing missing.

Burglars also struck at the Beatrice Sales Barn office and the Beatrice Hay and Feed Company office. Both firms are between the railroad tracks and the Blue River in the west part of town.

The sheriff said all entries were gained by breaking on opening windows. As far as could be determined, he said, nothing of value was taken at any of the places in the county despite the hard work by the raiders.

The sheriff fears that, with the opening of businesses Monday morning, there will be more places in the county found broken into.

New Methodist Church Will Be Named St. Mark's

St. Mark's Methodist Church is the name chosen by the congregation for the new church which will be constructed next spring at 72nd and Vine in the Meadowlark Addition.

Services for the St. Mark's congregation are now being conducted in the fellowship room of the parsonage at 7140 Vine.

The Rev. Stanley A. Kruschwitz said the choice of the name of St. Mark's selected at the Sunday morning service, was adopted unanimously by the 87 persons present.

The group held its formal organization services Oct. 7.

TOKYO (INS)—Tokyo marked its 500th anniversary with a unique bicycle caravan containing 1,500 bicycles and extending two and a half miles long.

Handicapped Child Center Of Appeal

... Father Asks Funds

A Webster County father, Alfred Schutte, has told the Nebraska Supreme Court that handicapped children should be entitled to the same educational opportunities and benefits as normal children.

The statement was made in a brief filed with the Court by Schutte's attorneys. Schutte seeks to require his local school district, consolidated District No. 90, to pay the costs of transporting his handicapped child, Gary Schutte, to and from the Spencer Park School at Hastings, about 35 miles from the Schutte home.

Schutte related that District 90 has no facilities for educating the handicapped and the nearest school providing such special education is the Hastings school.

Father Paid Costs

Gary has attended the Hastings school for three years, his father providing the transportation. District 90, on the advice of State Education Commissioner Freeman B. Decker, has rejected Schutte's demands for payment of transportation costs and Schutte has appealed.

Schutte stated in the brief that the law clearly provides that all children attending school outside the district in which they reside shall be reimbursed for transportation.

"But Mr. Decker has ruled that handicapped children are not entitled to such benefits—that they are second-class citizens," the brief added.

The statement in the brief continued: "This ruling is based on the fact that special provisions for handicapped children exist in the statutes of Nebraska, apart from the general school laws. But the special legislation is to be read in context with the general school laws, since the special laws do not forbid the payment of transportation expenses to the handicapped, the general provision remains applicable, and they should be reimbursed for their transportation expenses."

Frankforter Retirement Approved

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents has approved the retirement of Col. C. J. Frankforter as student consultant for the athletic department.

Col. Frankforter originally retired from the University teaching staff in Sept. 1954 after serving 46 years as associate professor of chemistry. He returned to the University in Jan. 1955.

In other action, the regents heard a written request that a toxicology department be set up on the Medical College campus. Dean Tollman said the University often receives requests for evaluation of materials which might have affected the health of individuals.

Clarkson Proposal

The regents also requested University officials to make a report to them on a proposal that the University buy an area in Omaha and then sell the land to Clarkson Hospital.

A member of Clarkson's executive committee, Al Gordon, said purchase of the lots north of the University College of Medicine campus would help keep the area from being bought by commercial interests.

The lots are on the south side of Harney between 42nd and 44th Streets in Omaha.

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin, Business Manager John K. Sellock and Dean P. J. Tollman of the College of Medicine were named to make the report.

Bernard Meehan Dies At Age 67

Bernard J. Meehan, 67, of 3342 Vine, died Sunday.

Funeral services will be 11 a.m. Thursday at Wadlows, with the Rev. Lloyd Watt and the Rev. J. C. Lowson officiating. Burial will be in Wyuka.

Born at Beatrice, Mr. Meehan came to Lincoln from Cortland in 1918. Since that time, he had been a meatcuter at Fredrich Brothers Grocery.

He was a member of Christ Methodist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Dora; daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Bett of Lincoln; sisters, Mrs. Ann Brown, Oxnard, Calif., Mrs. Cecil Sullivan of Wymore, Neb., and Gertrude of Omaha; brother, Edward J. Meehan of Kimball, Neb., and one granddaughter.

150 Attend Dedication Of New Temple By Masonic Lodge 137 at Burchard

Lincoln Star Special BURCHARD, Neb. — Some 150 Masons attended dedication ceremonies for the new Masonic Temple at Burchard. Guest speaker was Ray C. Cook of Omaha, grand custodian of the Nebraska Lodge and special guests were officers of the Grand Lodge of Nebraska. They included Merle M. Hale of Lincoln, grand master; John E. Beaver of Beemer, deputy grand master; Carl R. Greisen, Omaha, grand secretary; Harold T. Thom, Omaha, grand historian; and William B. Wanner of Falls City, past grand master.

The Burchard lodge purchased the former United Presbyterian Church building at Burchard three years ago and volunteers of the lodge have since been engaged in remodeling and redecorating the building.

The building features a Lodge Hall on the first floor where the Upright Lodge as well as the Fern Chapter No. 90, Order of Eastern Star meets.

Prior to the ceremonies the guests were served dinner at Burchard Methodist Church by the Eastern Star ladies. Joe R. Kaul was master of ceremonies.

Roy Lenwell of McCook is president of the organization. Tom Waldo of Orleans is vice president and Cletus Nelson of Holdrege is secretary.

Tropical Storm In Cuba Observed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Weathermen are watching a disturbance in the central Cuba area for further indications of a small tropical storm.

The disturbance was noted as northeast winds flailed Florida's coast Sunday. Storm warnings for strong to gale winds were hoisted from Palm Beach south to Alligator Reef in the Florida Keys.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Miami said the wind velocity was 25 to 40 miles an hour with gusts to 55 miles an hour. Seas were "very rough."

16 Munch On Lunch All Day; Test NU Food By Tasting

Contrary to the old maxim—variety is not always spicy, as 16 University of Nebraska taste-testers will testify.

The NU dietitians spent two days tasting four or five examples of 40 different food items to help them decide which canned goods would be purchased to supply all the University's food needs this year.

Cold, unseasoned vegetables can be rather dull early in the morning—or any other time, for that matter—but that's the only way taste-testers can be certain of the true flavor. You try plain corn, peas, beans, etc., without benefit of salt, pepper, butter and heat and you may know which is the best kind, but you also appreciate what will make even the best better.

Unlabeled

Each brand tested was in an unlabeled can identified by a code number known to the University buyers. The tasters marked off sections on a paper plate for each brand of a certain item and then started tasting and testing.

In the opinion of Mrs. Anna Dunn, dietitian of Sellsack Quadrangle, all foods start tasting alike after about an hour of this business.

6 Break-Ins Reported In Gage County

Lincoln Star Special
BEATRICE, Neb.—Gage County Sheriff Ned Maxwell and Deputies Henry Hawes and Fred Steinkamp got little rest Sunday. There were a total of six break-ins in the county to be investigated.

The sheriff's office reported that the Searle and Chapin Lumber Co. and the Bahr Grain Company elevator were broken into at Barnesville sometime after closing Saturday night.

The raiders took a safe from the lumber company to a country road where they apparently battered it open but found nothing of value and abandoned it. Offices at both places were ransacked but the intruders found no money.

Same Intruders

What was believed to be the work of the same intruders was evident in four Beatrice business places according to the sheriff. Places entered included the Riklik-Coulter Implement Company and the O.K. Rubber Welders Company offices, both on U.S. 77 at the north edge of town. First check showed nothing missing.

Burglars also struck at the Beatrice Sales Barn office and the Beatrice Hay and Feed Company office. Both firms are between the railroad tracks and the Blue River in the west part of town. The sheriff said all entries were gained by breaking or opening windows. As far as could be determined, he said, nothing of value was taken at any of the places in the county despite the hard work by the raiders.

The sheriff fears that, with the opening of businesses Monday morning, there will be more places in the county found broken into.

New Methodist Church Will Be Named St. Mark's

St. Mark's Methodist Church is the name chosen by the congregation for the new church which will be constructed next spring at 72nd and Vine in the Meadowlark Addition.

Services for the St. Mark's congregation are now being conducted in the fellowship room of the parsonage at 7140 Vine.

The Rev. Stanley A. Kruschwitz said the choice of the name of St. Mark's selected at the Sunday morning service, was adopted unanimously by the 87 persons present.

The group held its formal organization services Oct. 7.

Handicapped Child Center Of Appeal

... Father Asks Funds

A Webster County father, Alfred Schutte, has told the Nebraska Supreme Court that handicapped children should be entitled to the same educational opportunities and benefits as normal children.

The statement was made in a brief filed with the Court by Schutte's attorneys. Schutte seeks to require his local school district, consolidated District No. 90, to pay the costs of transporting his handicapped child, Gary Schutte, to and from the Spencer Park School at Hastings, about 35 miles from the Schutte home.

Schutte related that District 90 has no facilities for educating the handicapped and the nearest school providing such special education is the Hastings school.

Father Paid Costs

Gary has attended the Hastings school for three years, his father providing the transportation. District 90, on the advice of State Education Commissioner Freeman B. Decker, has rejected Schutte's demands for payment of transportation costs and Schutte has appealed.

Schutte stated in the brief that the law clearly provides that all children attending school outside the district in which they reside shall be reimbursed for transportation.

"But Mr. Decker has ruled that handicapped children are not entitled to such benefits—that they are second-class citizens," the brief added.

The statement in the brief continued: "This ruling is based on the fact that special provisions for handicapped children exist in the statutes of Nebraska, apart from the general school laws. But the special legislation is to be read in context with the general school laws . . . since the special laws do not forbid the payment of transportation expenses to the handicapped, the general provision remains applicable, and they should be reimbursed for their transportation expenses."

150 Attend Dedication Of New Temple By Masonic Lodge 137 at Burchard

Lincoln Star Special
BURCHARD, Neb.—Some 150 Masons attended dedication ceremonies for the new Masonic Temple at Burchard. Guest speaker was Ray C. Cook of Omaha, grand custodian of the Nebraska Lodge and special guests were officers of the Grand Lodge of Nebraska. They included Merle M. Hale of Lincoln, grand master; John E. Beaver of Beemer, deputy grand master; Carl R. Greisen, Omaha, grand secretary; Harold T. Thom, Omaha, grand historian, and William B. Wanner of Falls City, past grand master.

The ceremonies constituted official approval and acceptance by the Grand Lodge of the new temple for Burchard's Upright Lodge 137.

The Burchard lodge purchased the former United Presbyterian Church building at Burchard three years ago and volunteers of the lodge have since been engaged in remodeling and redecorating the building.

The building features a Lodge Hall on the first floor where the Upright Lodge as well as the Fern Chapter 96, Order of Eastern Star meets.

Prior to the ceremonies the guests were served dinner at Burchard Methodist Church by the Eastern Star ladies. Joe R. Rauh was master of ceremonies.

Notice to Dealers in Trucks
Sealed bids will be received at the office of the City Engineer of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, up to 10:00 o'clock A.M. Wednesday, October 24, 1956, for furnishing 10 trucks of various sizes for use of the City of Lincoln, in accordance with specifications for same on file in the office of the City Engineer.

Copies of the specifications may be obtained in the Purchasing Department. The estimate of cost for furnishing these trucks is $22,000.00 plus trade ins and FOB Lincoln.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check in the sum of five (5) per cent of the total amount bid, made payable to the order of Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer, as a guarantee of good faith.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any defect in bids.

Clarkson Proposal
The regents also requested University officials to make a report to them on a proposal that the University buy an area in Omaha and then sell the land to Clarkson Hospital.

A member of Clarkson's executive committee, Al Gordon, said purchase of the lots north of the University College of Medicine campus would help keep the area from being bought by commercial interests.

The lots are on the south side of Harney between 42nd and 44th Streets in Omaha.

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin, Business Manager John K. Selleck and Dean P. J. Tollman of the College of Medicine were named to make the report.

The regents also passed a resolution expressing appreciation for the exemplary duty performed by former Regent Stanley D. Long who died Oct. 6.

Former Official Denies Gov. Bryan Forced Contributions

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer
Cecil E. Matthews, former state labor commissioner, said Sunday the charge that former Gov. Charles W. Bryan forced campaign contributions "is without foundation and devoid of truth."

The statement concerning Bryan was made last week at the unveiling of a "Statehouse Republican Club" aimed at securing campaign contributions for the state GOP.

The club was formed, according to its organizers, to permit state employees to contribute to the Republican Party. One of its aims was to even the contribution load with donations based on a monthly salary schedule.

'Voluntary'
Tom Pansing, state insurance department director, said the contribution campaign would be completely voluntary and would not be a forced campaign. During a press conference announcing the formation of the club, Pansing remarked that previous state Democratic administrations, specifically that of Charles W. Bryan, used "forced" donation systems.

Matthews, in a letter to The Lincoln Star, said the heads of Bryan's own departments did the contributing "on their own free will and without solicitation of the employees under them."

The present "Statehouse Republican Club," to which memberships are gained by contributions, was formed by Pansing, Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington and Athletic Director C. N. Moon.

Various Responses
Formation of the club drew various responses from Statehouse employees, both good and bad. Some Statehouse employees noted the announcement of the club's formation was unique in that it was made public before the actual drive for funds was begun.

Matthews, now of Hastings, served as head of the State Labor Department from 1931-1935 during Bryan's second term of office.

Advertisement for Bids
Separate proposals for Stage Curtain and for Folding Bleachers for new Auditorium at Wayne State Teachers College will be received until 2:00 o'clock P.M. Wednesday, October 24, 1956 at the President's Office, Wayne State Teachers College, 1307 Farnam Street, Omaha, Nebraska where copies may be obtained by bona fide bidders.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids and to waive irregularities therein.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name, if the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. When you reach the end of the line, start at the beginning of the line and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. When you reach the end of the line, start at the beginning of the line and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. When you reach the end of the line, start at the beginning of the line and check every one of your key numbers, left to right.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS

By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

This is the crucial spot in the campaign where ninety-seven per cent of the people talk in their sleep. And seventy-three per cent get answers.

Instead of bannering daguerreotypes and rampant huzzahs they are flaunting a new gimmick: a nifty little gadget called a "Bugging Machine."

Instead of quoting Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln they are referring to a Benedict Arnold, Aaron Burr and the guy who soaped the steps on the old folks home.

If we believe the Democratic consensus of biased opinion there isn't a Republican who couldn't set off a burglar alarm by winking at it in the dark. If we stash any credence in GOP hearsay a Democrat is a fellow who hangs cow-bells on pump-handles to fool near-sighted babies.

The last politician we saw last week was headed west in a conga line of eleven traitor officers and a house detective. He couldn't take a ride on a dembowler without breaking his parole.

Slicks and stones will break your bones but names will never drop you. When you run for office you get raked over like dust in Fort Knox.

And never are we so free and equal as when we are spread-eagled before a jury of lazy bird-watchers. This is America where time and tide wear no man's collar.

Which doesn't stop his son from swiping his neckties.

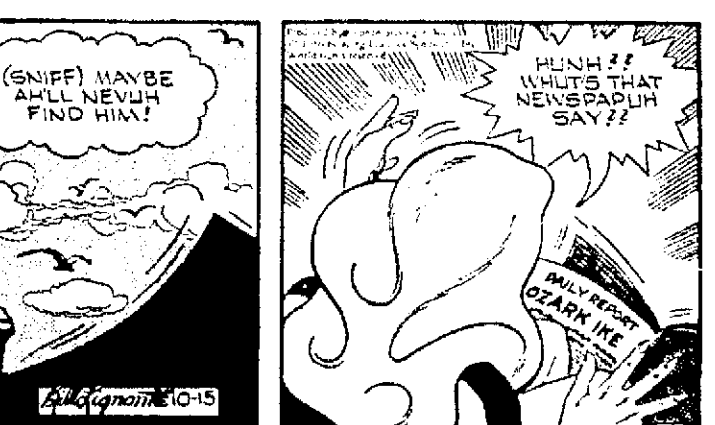

Vivid Demonstration

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—John Bauer was showing passengers how another one of his passengers had been injured earlier in his elevator. Bauer stuck his foot between the doors. But the demonstration went further than he had intended. The doors closed on his foot and the elevator started upward. Before it could be stopped, Bauer's foot had been scraped against the wall of the elevator shaft—just like his passenger's had been.
